

WE NOMINATE

Neil Leon Rudenstine, one of the youngest Deans in Princeton University's history, who next July 1 will enter upon a five-year term as Dean of Students, a position described by an experienced observer "as one of the most challenging and rewarding assignments in the entire University." At age 33 this versatile native of Connecticut, a member of the Princeton Class of 1956, is succeeding William D'Olier Lippincott, newly named Executive Director of The Alumni Council, as the member of the Administration charged with the oversight of the facets of undergraduate social life and extra-curricular activities, including both athletic and non-athletic organizations.

The Dean Designate, a member of the Harvard University faculty for the past four years, brings to his new assignment qualities which bode well for his success in encouraging "sound and fruitful relationships between the social and intellectual aspects of undergraduate life." Advanced to an Assistant Professorship at Harvard in 1966, and now joining Princeton's Department of English as an Associate Professor, Rudenstine, for example, has been a member of the tutorial staff in Harvard's Adams House and has taught extensively on both the graduate and undergraduate levels, with his offerings ranging from introductory courses to honors tutorials.

The range of Rudenstine's responsibilities, which represent a full seven-day week throughout the academic year, are suggested by some of the posts he will inherit from the 48-year-old Lippincott, a specialist in student personnel administration for well over two decades. He will become Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Discipline as well as of the University Council on Athletics and its Executive Committee. He will hold forth as an ex officio member of the University Trustee Committees on Student Life and

Health and Athletics and will also serve as a member of the standing Faculty Committees concerned with Undergraduate Life, Admission, Athletic Eligibility and Examinations and Standing.

Throughout his Princeton undergraduate years Rudenstine, a product of The Wooster School in his native Danbury, Conn., held a New England Regional Scholarship and accumulated a flock of honors both inside and beyond the classroom. He was graduated with Highest Honors in the Humanities, won major prizes in English, was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and topped his career with his designation as a Rhodes Scholar. He was also vice-chairman of the Undergraduate Council, a member of a committee administering Princeton's Honor System, a Cadet Captain in the Army ROTC Unit and Senior Manager of the Department of Athletics' Ticket Office, a perennial source of student complaints in the 1960's.

As a Rhodes Scholar Rudenstine, who stresses that in this crucial time for American universities students on their own initiative are raising highly important as well as complex questions, studied for three years at Oxford University, receiving his Oxford Bachelor of Arts with First Class Honors in 1959. A year of active duty as an Army First Lieutenant at Fort Sill, Okla., preceded graduate study at Harvard where he was a Harvard Prize Fellow for four years and earned his Ph.D. in 1964. His Harvard doctoral dissertation, devoted to Sir Philip Sidney's poetry, led to his first major publication, "Sidney's Poetic Development."

For understanding that "the tone and structure of university life are changing more rapidly than we can perceive, or at times even suspect"; for looking forward to being directly involved in a whole range of issues bearing upon undergraduate life; for his potential as a scholar-administrator; he is our nominee as

BUDGET VOTE TUESDAY
$183,500 Out. Eighteen items totaling $183,500 were cast last week by the Princeton Regional School Board from its 1968-69 budget following the budget's 2:1 defeat.

Voters will go to the polls next Tuesday, February 20, between 5 and 9 p.m. for a second vote on the budget.

TOWN TOPICS urges a "yes" vote on this revised budget, believing that a second defeat would severely damage both the Princeton public school system and the Princeton community.

All three new members of the board, who might have made an election issue of opposition to the budget, support it firmly and state the bases for their support, in a joint letter in this issue of TOWN TOPICS.

One outspoken critic of the budget, Heinz Heinemann, 32 Locust Lane, announced to the school board Monday night that he would vote "yes" on the revised budget. He expanded his position in a letter to TOWN TOPICS.

(See pages 10-14 for letters and advertisements on the budget.)

"Voting the budget down again won't save much money but may harm what we're trying to improve," Mr. Heinemann stated. "The danger in the lowering of the quality of education is obvious."

Cuts made by the board:

• $15,000 — busing for kindergarten through fifth graders who live one and one-half to two miles from school;

• $15,000 — summer school for children who have done

poor academic work during the school year.

• $10,000 — One-week program for eighth graders at Stokes State Forest in natural science and related subjects.

• $7,000 plus $4,700 — student wages plus materials for the summer work program of maintenance work on buildings and grounds. Cut in half.

• $7,000 — two of the four "four-year-old" kindergarten classes have been cut out.

• $4,000 — transportation supervisor staff reduced by one-third.

• $3,900 — half-time librarian.

• $2,300 — pilot summer program of new teaching ideas proposed by teachers, cut in half.

List is at Schools. Other cut items include maintenance on tennis courts, Stone Brook Building, and some side walks; teachers' parking lot at high school; intercom system at Johnson Park; safety ground cover under some playground equipment.

A detailed list of cuts is available in any of the schools, and has been sent home with school children.

"We cut the things that would do least damage to educational quality and the things we could cut without additional study," explained Mrs. Freeman, board president, at a special public meeting held last Thursday.

She said that further transportation cuts came under the second category. The schools have almost completed a detailed study of transportation, and Mrs. Freeman told the public meeting that this report may lead to additional cutbacks.

Princeton's two administrators, Robert F. Mooney and Joseph H. Nims, and school board counsel Thomas Cook this week that the Borough will lose $11,000 in school revenues this year, and the Township a whopping $50,000, for a total of $61,000 lost to the school board in revenue.

This means a disproportionate increase in school taxes.

no matter how small the bud get is.

Communication? At the public meeting Thursday night, more than 100 people jammed into the small ground-level meeting room at the high school to challenge the board repeatedly on figures and philosophy.

Speakers, almost all of whom were opposed to the budget, said repeatedly that the board had failed to communicate with residents of the community. They also said that no proper evaluations had been made of what children were learning in Princeton schools. More citizen participation was a frequent topic, and one member of the audience said, "We've all had a lesson in civic responsibility in these last weeks."

At Monday's re-organization meeting, the question of public participation was raised and discussed at even greater length.

One outcome of the current budget will certainly be the formation of citizens' groups, perhaps one to serve as communications liaison between the board and the town, perhaps even one to sit in on budget plans.

"No," Meunier, the steam rises toward Tuesday's election. The Citizens for Community Revitalization, led by John R. Lee, 201 Hun Road, and George Otis, 858 Princeton-Kingston Road, registered their opposition, even to the revised budget.

So does Maurice F. Healy Jr., 181 Liberty Place, who charges the board with "fiscal irresponsibility." He says he thinks the entire $300,000 option should have been cut away, because the $100,000 cut was not a response to the "mandate" of the 21 defeat.

"Yes," Princeton's teachers issued a supporting statement. "A second budget defeat and the curtailment resulting, will seriously limit the progress we have been making in special areas of our educational program," the teachers said. "Are Princeton citizens taking the long view, or are they about to make a short-sighted move?" the teachers asked.

The group of citizens that obtained the 390 signatures in the ad on page 11, signed them up in scarcely more than 24 hours over the weekend.

William E. Abrams, new board member, said he planned a doorbell-ringing campaign to line up support for Tuesday's vote.

The town wanted to shake up the school board OK, they've done it, now let's get Another new board member, John Marks, said, "I feel strongly that superintendent and administrative staff have a minimal budget. I feel strongly that the budget should be passed."

And he added, "You people in town — what do you really want?"

DR. PARKER DIES

Following Bereft Attack. The Rev. Dr. William T. Parker, for 33 years pastor for the First Baptist Church here since his retirement in 1962, died Tuesday night in Princeton Hospital. Had suffered a heart attack earlier this week.

Dr. Parker lived at 114 Alexander Street. He is survived by his wife, Daisy; three sisters and a brother. Arrangements under direction of the Anderson Funeral Home, were in complete care. TOWN TOPICS went to press.

I SWEET, GASOLINE

Near Murray Place. Gasoline fumes so strong and potentially explosive that motorists hastily moved elsewhere, were filtered through the Nassau Street School, near Murray Place and Princeton Avenue last week.

The danger has now abated, reported Borough Councilman Robert Hendry at Tuesday night's Council meeting. He told Council that the Sunoco station on the corner of Nassau and Murray had a trench and that the gasoline mysteriously disappeared after this trench had been dug.

Diggers encountered underground water that filled the trench, according to Borough Administrator Robert F. Mooney, and some three inches of gasoline floated on the top.

The situation was assigned by fire officials to Bernard ("Red") Glover of the Borough engineering department. Mr. Hendry commended Mr. Glover and the Borough engineers for the thoroughness of their work.

BUDGET VOTE SPLIT

In West Windsor. The Board of Education's request for $1,155,897 in current expenses was defeated in West Windsor Tuesday night, 278 to 255, and must be remitted to the voters later this month. The figure of $42,605 for capital outlay passed, 276 to 212.

The three successful candidates for places on the board were Robert W. Prigo, 406; Richard S. Sneider, 389; and John R. Debrige, 270. Defeated were Walter Domitrac, 234; Arnold H. Kriz, 149; and those running were incumbent.

Approval in Lawrence. The budget in Lawrence Township passed, with approximately 25% of the electorate voting. Current expenses of $2,716,560 were approved, 1226 to 926. Capital outlay was backed, 1121 to 913.

The winners, backed by the Lawrence Citizens Education Council, were L. Bruce Cranston, an incumbent, 1346; Mrs. Willa Spicer, 1534; and Theodore K. Griggs, 1346. The losers were Robert N. Cotton, 1003; John M. Walter, 998; and Stephen J. Salvo, 996.

WOMAN TELLER KILLED
Shot at Princeton Bank. Mrs. Kirsti Pfister, a teller at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, was shot Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 by a man who fled empty-handed, leaving an empty brown paper bag.

Miss Linda Asbury, the teller in the next window, told Borough Police that she heard the would-be robber say, "For money," she said Mrs. Pfister's reply was, "You must be kidding."

One shot from a .23 caliber pistol was fired, striking Mrs. Pfister in the chest. "She was apparently hit right in the heart," Chief Peter J. McCrohan said. "She died instantly." Chief McCrohan described the killer as "a light-skinned, colored person or Puerto Rican—probably the latter. He was about 28 or 30, five feet five or six, with black wavy hair and sideburns."

No Getaway Car. The man was further described as stocky and wearing a wadded white jacket under a three-quarter length coat. He also wore a brown fedora at the time.

"As far as we know, no car was involved and he left on foot," Chief McCrohan added. Bank President William R. Cosby said that the man is believed to have run east on Nas-

MURDER INVESTIGATION: Reconstruction of the events which led up to the fatal shooting of Mrs. Kirsti Pfister, teller at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, on Tuesday was undertaken immediately by police, county detectives and the FBI. Among those in the picture are Chief Peter J. McCrohan, Detective Robert McAvella of the Borough and County Detective John Maloney.

sau and then down Witherspoon Street.

So quickly did the shooting occur that Mrs. Pfister had no time to sound an alarm—a push-button within ready reach of her teller's cage. She was in charge of the first window, immediately to the right as one enters the bank. Bullet-proof glass surrounded her but the shot was fired through an opening for cash and check transactions.

Miss Asbury, a close friend, overheard the brief conversation between the gunman and Mrs. Pfister and witnessed the shooting. After overcoming the initial effects of shock, she was able to make a statement at police headquarters.

Tuesday night, police issued a 14-state teletype alarm for Jose Soto, a 30-year-old busboy who they said was a former employee of the Nassau Inn and the Princeton Inn. Acquaintances of Soto, whom Chief McCrohan described as a "drifter," said that he had been seen with his head shaved in an apparent attempt to disguise his appearance. He was reportedly wearing a bandage to cover a scalp wound.

Police said he has the number 13 tattooed between thumb and forefinger. He is said to be married but separated from his wife.

Police said Wednesday morning they had recovered the murder weapon but refused to give further details. They added that Soto is believed to be armed with another pistol.

Police Respond Quickly. Just moments after the shooting, the bank was swarming with police, Mercer County detectives, police photographers and reporters. Members of the bank staff walked around with stunned and blank faces.

$10,000 Reward Planned

Late Tuesday afternoon William R. Cosby, president of Princeton Bank and Trust Company, said he would go before the bank's board of directors Wednesday to propose a reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the killer.

Asked to name an amount, Mr. Cosby replied, "I am currently thinking in the neighborhood of $10,000." He described Mrs. Kirsti Pfister as "a lovely apple-cheeked girl and one of our best tellers."

A male teller's eyes were filled with tears. Through it all, customers were served, many of those who came into the bank within minutes after Mrs. Pfister had died unaware of the nature of the tragedy.

Three hours after the killing the police desk at Borough Hall was receiving a steady stream of calls offering information. One caller said he had seen a man answering the description being broadcast over the radio in the Nassau Inn about 15 minutes before the shooting took place.

Among the score or more of calls desk-man William Guinn reported was one from the Chicago Tribune requesting on-the-spot information. Half a dozen agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were present, responding automatically to an attempt to rob a bank insured by the government.

Mrs. Pfister's death is believed to be the first to have occurred in Princeton as the result of armed robbery. The attempt to hold up Princeton Bank is also thought to be the first event of its kind since it was founded in 1884.

THE VICTIM: Mrs. Kirsti L. Pfister of Kingston, teller at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, who was shot and killed Tuesday in an attempted holdup.

Hitecock, personnel director at the bank.

Kirsti Larsen Pfister (who had dropped her first name of Allis) was described in her Princeton High School year book as a "quiet, beautiful girl." She would have been 28 years old on Friday.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kristian Larsen of Acken Parkway, Griggstown, she had graduated from Princeton High School in 1929. Her association with Princeton Bank began in its cooperative program with business and professional firms while she was still a student there. Upon graduation, she began full-time employment at the bank.

On July 4, 1950, she was married to Donald Pfister, also a graduate of Princeton High School, who is employed in the accounting department of American Cynamid here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Pfister of Rocky Hill.

Although living in Kingston, Mrs. Pfister had continued her activities in the Griggstown Reformed Church, of which she was a member. The couple, who have no children, lived at 3 Laurel Avenue, Kingston.

PARKING AMENDED
On Witherspoon. One way to keep warm on a cold night is to exercise some effort at parliamentary footwork, and that's what Borough Council did Tuesday night as it amended its Witherspoon parking ordinance.

The new ordinance, which has its own amendment, returns the Witherspoon parking situation to where it was before the other ordinance was passed, which means that cars can go on parking in front of Fore's Pharmacy.

However, the original ordinance to which Mr. Fore objected, still hasn't been passed on by the state. It could receive approval when Borough Council adopts the new ordinance reversing it. Public hearing March 12.

Tuesday's ordinance has an amendment, offered by Councilman William Walker. Parking will be banned on the west side of Witherspoon between Wiggins and Green (next to the Youth Center) and two parking spots will be removed at each of the streets intersecting Witherspoon, for sale.

Quiet, Please. Noise generated by the second of two new refrigeration units at Davidson's super-market brought down residents of Madison Street and Park Place to Council Tuesday night.

The protesting residents were told by Mayor Henry S. Patterson that the Borough will introduce next month one or possibly two, once abatement ordinances, based on measurements of actual decibel level.

Neighbors of Davidson's told Mayor and Council that the new unit makes so much noise that people cannot sleep at night. One woman told Council that when she took her protest to Mr. Davidson, owner of the market, he told her to move somewhere else if the noise bothered her.

Thomas Cawley, Borough engineer, reported that Davidson's had brought in experts to check the sound level and to make recommendations about relieving the noise.

The market had agreed, Mr. Cawley said, to install rubber padding under the unit and to enclose it in sound-absorbing materials. He said Councilman Alfred Sorenson, who is an engineer also, told the neighbors that the unit has to be outdoors because it is an air-cooled condenser. Several in the audience had asked if the unit could be enclosed in a brick or stone "house."

In reply to a question from Councilman Robert Hendry, Mr. Cawley said the market hadn't been given any deadline for making the improvements. Mr. Hendry suggested that an outside expert might be a more objective judge of decibel level than the one retained by Davidson's.

Mr. Cawley promised he would continue to press Mr. Davidson for completion of the improvements he has begun.

Council introduced an ordinance authorizing Borough participation in a new, temporary regional sewer organization, the Joint Sewer Meeting, which can apply for state funds to make engineering studies for a sub-regional sewer.

Other communities in the Meeting are Princeton Township, Hopewell Borough, Hopewell Township, West Windsor and Pennington. If the sub-regional sewer plan dies, the Borough will be liable for a host $13,253,000 as its share of the money advanced by the state, Mayor Patterson observed.

However, Mr. Sorenson commented: "Our sewer plant is 35 years old and too small — we've got to do something one way or another and if the other communities drop out, we'll go ahead with West Windsor and Princeton Township."

$1,000 NECKLACE TAKEN From a McCarter House Case. A brass necklace valued at $1,000 was reported stolen Saturday from its display case on the second floor of McCarter Theatre.

The bracelet was on loan from its owner, Mrs. George J. Adriance of 3 Newell Road Mr. Adriance, an investment counselor with Clark, Dodge & Company's Princeton office, is president of the Princeton Art Association.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan reported that the glass case had not been broken. Apparently he said, someone just pushed the glass up and reached in.

The bracelet was the work of Alexander Calder, a renowned sculptor, whose has attracted acclaim for his abstract sculptures.

Pt. Charles Harris is investigating the theft which, police say, probably took place Friday or Saturday night during the performance of "The Beggar's Opera," Miss Nancy Shannon, manager of the theater, notified the police.

Get back my toes.

The February cold wave, as traditional as the January thaw, has been dominating the weather picture for the past few days. Temperature readings in outlying areas have been as low as 10.

A slightly milder trend is in store, and when it's been cold, that can mean snow. Watch out around Friday, the Man said, but after last week's big threat blew out to sea, he wouldn't be more specific.

POLICE ARREST THREE In Pat Party. Arrest for marijuana possession is becoming a weekly occurrence in Princeton.

Borough Police arrested three more youths Monday morning at 11:40 and charged them with possession of marijuana. Acting on complaints from neighbors, police, armed with a search warrant, raided an apartment building at 181 Witherspoon Street.

Arrested were Melvin Best, whose address police gave as 27 Leigh Avenue; Linwood Pergerson, 18, 284 John Street;

News Of The Theatres

Princeton Regional Ballet Company will receive a grant of $1,500 from the New Jersey State Arts Council to help finance the appearance of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra at the Southeast Regional Ballet Festival to be held here in May.

The New Jersey Symphony will provide a 40-piece orchestra to play for the Festival's "Gala Performance" in McCarter on May 25.

Renewith Scherhorn, music director for the American Ballet Theatre, will conduct, assisted by Frank Scorzano.

STUDENT PLAY SECTED BY PBS Freshman, The freshman class at Princeton Day School has selected two performances of James Burnes' one act play "My Sister, My Son" for the festival, with a cast and production crew made up entirely of students.

Kenneth Scherhorn, music director for the American Ballet Theatre, will conduct, assisted by Frank Scorzano.

Playhouse, Prince, Lincoln. The Graduate (late over) is a comedy concerning a graduate who knows not what to do about the future and who is comet involved with an older woman and then falls in love with her daughter. Under the direction of Mike Nichols, the film is a series of sketches (and together by a thread of the plot) strongly reminiscent of the type of satirical sketches Nichols used to act with Elaine May.

Dustin Hoffman, as the hero, is an easy mark for Anne Bancroft, and when her daughter, played by Katherine Ross, comes onto the scene, our hero falls for her. The mother is determined he won't marry her offspring. Her efforts to stop him are the basis for the remainder of the sketches in the film.

The scenes, or sketches, are amusing and often hilarious. Dialogue is sharp and funny. Nichols uses some modern free-wheeling techniques, mixing of reality and fantasy, shots through an aquarium and rock and roll background with vocals.

GARDEN

The President's Analyst (Thurs., Fri., Sat.) Government, big business, psychiatry and hippies are only a few of the targets hit with malice and wit in this clever spoof.

The play emphasizes is not on the president (who is never seen or identified by name) but on the analyst and what free-wheeling him when he comes confident to the most important man in the free world.

James Coburn plays the lead in his best Our Man Flint style. At first he is over-optimistic.

ed by the honor of being selected for such a delicate task. He becomes disenchanted, however, as the FBI (male) takes FBI, takes his girl friend away from him because he talks in his sleep. Red lights summon him to the White House and at night, and he finally cracks, fleeing to the Jersey suburbs, and on to Greenwich Village. Secret agents from all over the world, including the U.S. hunt for him, hoping to pry out the presidential secrets.

The Young Americans (Sunday) only a family film with a cute story about down-to-earth teenagers, and offering comedy, drama and a blending of pleasing voices and talents.

The story concerns a former Los Angeles high school teacher played by Mike Nichols, who is auditioning new singers to replace drop-outs from a group of talented youngsters known as "The Young Americans."

Selections are eventually planned to a performing group of 36 who make a summer tour of the United States. Touring presents all kinds of problems to Anderson as the kids get to know each other. There are romances, a bus stop at a tiny desert where the youngsters take over, and a performance in an Illinois penitentiary.

The Gnome-Mobile (Monday and Tuesday) Typical Walt Disney studios comedy, starring Walker Brennan and two youngsters, Matthew Garber and Karen Dotrice.

The Gnome-Mobile is really an oldie. Royce, owned by a California lumber tycoon, played by Walker Brennan. It is so named because Brennan and the two children above go trucking down gnomes in the mountains, hoping to find a pretty girl gnome. This they are doing as a favor for a two-foot gnome acquaintance who wants a wife.

However, there's a villain in the piece, an unscrupulous operator of a freak show, who kidnaps the girl acquaintance and his old father (also played by Brennan). As would seem logical, Brennan gets clapped into a sanatorium for a while.

IT'S NEW To US

COME INTO MY PARLOR
New Decorator Here, Nassau Interiors has a new decorator, Mrs. Eleanor Kaufman, who has an exciting new line of furniture in the front parlor, and the combination will send you straight to the phone (924-2661) for an appointment.

The decorator is Mrs. Eleanor Kaufman, member of the American Institute of Interior Designers, graduate of the University of Delaware in art history, graduate of the Parsons School of Design and scholarship student at the Winterthur Museum in Wilmington.

She has more credentials, in fact, than we have space. We haven't even told you that she is contributing to Allan Gowan's book, "Architecture of New Jersey," that she has been working in the decorating department of some very large stores indeed.

Well, back to Nassau Interiors. Mrs. Kaufman's spring excitement is the Flair line of furniture. Inner quality that you can't see, like individuality wrapped coils in the upholstered pieces, heavy waves licking to restrain the Parrel and foam filling, is one characteristic of the line.

Another, visible and full of flair indeed, is the variety of style, design and fabric available. Not only that, you start with a chair, in width, and can add one foot at a time, up to 108 inches! You can have welting, or no welting (Flair thinks welting shows the wear first, and you may agree).

You may choose ball casters, wooden legs, wood plinth construction (this means a narrow band of wood across the front of a sofa instead of the usual skirt); contemporary styling or the purest in traditional modes.

Let's begin. Here's a long, curving sofa, upholstered when we saw it, in a wonderfully textured, honey-and-oatmeal tweed. Fat cushions at each end are held sternly in place by a wide suede belt and buckle! Yes, indeed, and how dramatic for a swaggering contemporary room!

Another sofa has polished steel bands wrapped around each end. They serve the functional purpose of providing support for the sofa, and the decorative purpose of showing how new and exciting polished steel can be. The metal also makes the leg base. Lifting the sofa gracefully off the floor. Another couch has a wood-framed cane square set into the fabric at the side.

Chairs? You'll love the little barrel chairs and the scaled down club chairs, especially when they smooth along on ball casters.

Nassau Interiors shows them upholstered in wonderful high tones of velvet — bright lime, bright royal, lemon, and blue. Kaufman is particularly enthusiastic about striped velvet, in which two colors are blended so astutely that the resulting fabric could actually be either one. (Look at the olive-yellow combination, as an example.)

Now, Flair makes tables, too, and the most interesting is a "bouncing table" made of dark and pecky pecan with an insert of black slate for the top. It's a long, narrow table with room underneath for — two more tables! A trundle table, is what it really is.

The two that go underneath are 18 inches square. Test a cushion on the top, and the little table is a comfortable stool. Store the cushion away on the shelf underneath, and you have an end table.

Lots of Flair's end tables combine Belgian plate glass with wood or polished steel. Let's take two of Flair's 12-inch, cane-sided cubes and make a long table by laying a sheet of glass between them.

"Glass is a fresh change from all the wood we've used so much," observe Mrs. Kaufman, but she likes to run her hand over the surface of a rosewood tilt-top table. It's not in the Flair line, but it does have flair. It is supported by a matte black fence that swings out to hold a drop leaf, and when you extend the table, you have a dramatic rosewood surface, twice as nice to cover with plates.

Nassau Interiors is a lamp center, of course, and these days they like the neo-classicism of a table lamp with crystal urn base on an antiqued crushed finish base. Lots of lamps now have marble or alabaster bases, too.

Floated silk lampshades, the pleats only one eighth inch wide, are features now at this store. All are hand sewn.

DRESS FOR SPRING
Or Even for Tease. Are you short and matronly in figure, but not short-waisted enough for a half-size? Ah! Turn to Clayton's. Here is the Arklin line of petites, is your white spring-summer wardrobe.

We'll mention only the natural linen with frogging, slash pockets and turnover collar, and the coat dress ensemble in turquoise raw silk with low belt restrained by six-inch-long belt tabs and the sleek gold-and-chocolate paisley dress with heavily shaggy gold-brown coat, lined with the paisley.

Sizes eight to 18 are welcome within the Royal Lyne line. Size eight wears a "line" in yellow with olive and turquoise bands around a keyhole at the throat, and mere buttons to serve as the shoulder comes in white with red and navy bands, too, and a silk lined.

Turquoise linen from Royal Lyne has wide white bands.

going down the front in very slimming and winning ways. A heavily ribbed silk dress, with jacket, has the finest kind of hem and seam finishing, the sort of thing that doesn't show, except that you know it's there for quality.

McMullen surprises everybody with a silvery silk in Great Big Flowers of pink and powder blue on white, and another with Great Big Flowers in orange and pink and green, and no sleeves and a wide neck tucked into a yoke, McMullen?

Robert Leonard moves in with a chocolate linen, carefully seamed, and designed with a generous cut for matronly figures. The back belt adds nice detail.

Wearing a knit? Hanbury models a cotton blend, deeply ribbed with coffee and milk. The dress is sleeveless, with palest beige leather belt, and the coat has buttons to match.

Double knit wool makes a silky with pearl buttons staking out the double-breasted lines. Under is a long-sleeved shell striped with lime and aqua to brighten the navy. Oh, yes, tennis — Clayton's has tennis dresses for people practicing indoors now for championship outdoors later. Birdseye or pinwale white pique, with — ah — slimming lines.

SEW A PEONY

Or a Kati. Around the Clayton's corner in "fabrics," they invite you to sew on this spring's Moygashel lines, prints and solids matching, to nobody's surprise. That peony is bright. Bright pink, mixed with blue and just plain pink, and you can match it with solid blue on either of the pinks.

One Moygashel print, by the way, that one in soft blurs of gold is like the print in a dress on one of Clayton's lines.

A contemporary paisley in greens and blues invites you again to Moygashel, and of course the most breath-taking lines of them all are the all-over embrodered ones. Like that exquisite ivory linen with regular rows of embrodered pink flowers and green petals almost like crewel-work. It's $14 a yard, but who cares?

Most Moygashel lines are $4, and all are 36 inches wide.

Chiffons match silk, did you know? Here's a leopard print silk just like a leopard print chiffon, and what your imagination can do with that! A claret and brown swirl print comes in chiffon and silk, too.

Screen-printed polyester has the texture of silk. It comes in an amusing print with separate square of color arranged like swatches against white.

Also in solid black and black outline flowers on white.

Tubular cotton knits are a whopping 70 inches wide when you open the tube. Navy and lime stripes, navy and red, coffee and white.

A 56-inch worsted knit, soft as can be, is lime, powder blue and white, in stripes of casual widths.

Liberty prints, 36 inches wide, $2.50 a yard, are reassuringly classic. "Lancashire lawns" in British floral patterns, are American-made, but Liberty in feeling.

New Members Ask Approval.

To the Editor of Town Topics: As newly-elected members of the School Board, we would like to clarify our position on the budget which is in its reduced form, will be before the voters again on February 20.

We were present for the executive meeting of the Board on February 7 and participated fully in the discussion of EXPENSES and how the budget should be cut. We endorse the Board's decision to make a series of cuts totalling $103,500, knowing that they conscientiously tried to make reductions in those areas where there would be least effect in the long run. We believe they reached a fair compromise between the expressed will of the voters that the budget be reduced, and the Board's responsibility to maintain the quality of our schools.

We hope the voters of Princeton will appreciate the hard realities of school costs which the Board itself has been facing. To cut much further than $103,500 would begin to jeopardize the future of the educational program.

The only way substantial further reductions could be made would be to cut into such things as the biology lab for the high school, the remodeling of the Valley Road auditorium for library and classroom purposes, the special services program, or transportation. Clearly there are not frills but items essential to the sound functioning of our schools.

We urge the voters to think about the following question before going to the polls on February 20: What do we stand to gain or to lose in passing the revised budget? We do not stand to gain much by defeating it again because there is simply no way that school tax bills can be lowered by more than a few dollars per year.

Nothing will be accomplished by shoring up the Board by the taxpayers because this has already been done. The Board is in the best budget defeat. The Board is conscious of the need for fuller information and is planning steps toward a closer talking partnership with the citizens from here on out.

We believe everyone will gain if the budget is passed next Tuesday. It will help to maintain morale and momentum throughout the system, qualities that are hard to restore once they have been lost.

EDITOR'S NOTE

The volume of letters to TOWN TOPICS' Mailbox on the subject of the school budget made it necessary to delete portions of some which ran for several hundred words apiece. In order to give as much space as possible to opinions expressed on this subject, several letters on other topics of community interest have been held for publication next week.

It will provide the best possible basis for the new Board—fully conscious of the vigilance that Princeton will maintain in school matters—to begin at once to develop new means of communication and broader citizen participation. And finally, the voters and the Board they have elected will be fulfilling their basic responsibility to settle their own budget locally, without deferring that decision to the town fathers or the State Commissioner of Education.

We hope Princeton will answer the question on February 20 with a resounding "yes" vote.

Save Township from Itself.

To the Editor of Town Topics: I regret the decisive "no" vote against the School Budget last week. I hope that the Borough and Township will adopt the new budget proposed for vote between 5 and 9 p.m., next Tuesday.

The new budget, cut by more than $106,000 from the first proposition, is not very attractive.

Under this revised scheme, the town fathers will require toddlers from the Seminary Apartments to kindergarten and first-grade on Stockton Street to wander for miles across town to attend the school. The Borough built the Township; they will continue to contribute operation of the Summer School as private enterprise, without support or supervision by the Board and Administration; and they will deny to my seventh-grade daughter a chance at the camping experience that, by all report, has been a significant contribution to the cohesion and self-confidence of the children in the present eighth and ninth-grade classes. I am, in my opinion, a good budget, but at least it is a responsible recommendation by qualified men and women who have studied the subject. The Regional Board, after spending sixty or seventy night and Sunday afternoon sessions in the discussion of November and December, constructed the budget. It saw all the lines of the budget, a possibility not open to critics who organized defeat of the first version of the document.

Our schools, and our town,

Taxi Owners, Attention.

To the Editor of Town Topics: It apparently is impossible to get a taxi in Princeton on weekdays after one a.m. This, despite yellow page advertisements of "24 hour service," "24 hour radio controlled," "anywhere, any time," etc. Would it not be possible for the taxi companies to alternate an early morning standby readiness, so that at least one taxi would always be available? Either a central phone number could be used or the phone number of the taxi on 24 hour call could be left at the Princeton and Nassau Inn each day.

HAROLD A. FEIVSON
Princeton University

will not be improved by transfer of the budget responsibility from the School Board to the Town Council and the Township Committee. The town politicians, if the general trend of things in Jersey is a guide, will cut less than the School Board already has. Their cut will not be as intelligent as that of the Board.

Two things should be clear: taxes will go up one year; and if the budget goes down again, we in Princeton are in for perennial political interference in our schools. This is not sensible.

I urge all voters in the Township and the Borough to vote "yes" if it is my impression that Township voters are hopelessly irresponsible and money-mad. I urge all Parents of Public Education in Princeton, all Teachers who would Save Our Schools, and all Citizens for Borough Schools to dig out their telephone lists. We in the Borough need to save the Township from itself.

Once more, I here urge a yes vote for the second Regional Budget.

SCHOOL BUDGET...
YOUR TAX BILL

Is a mere 194% budget adjustment enough?
...following the more than 2 to 1 rejection of the budget at the February 6 election

This minor adjustment still means:

A 38% increase in 2 years in the budget to be raised by local taxes in spite of a decrease in number of students!

A 58% higher cost per pupil than the projected N.J. average!

If you believe a lot more can and should be cut from the budget, then vote NO against the budget on February 20.

SUPPORT THE SCHOOL BUDGET!

We believe the education of Princeton's children, at home and at school, is one of our best possible investments. We, the undersigned voters of the Princeton Regional School District, urge our fellow townsmen to adopt the revised school board budget when it comes to a second vote on Tuesday, February 20th.

Student Support For Budget

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 As Princeton High School students, we feel it is necessary to express our feelings on the recent defeat of the School Board budget. We are disgusted. When a town as wealthy as Princeton refuses to allocate sufficient funds for education and moreover when so much needed budget is defeated by two-to-one margin, it is disgraceful.

The Princeton Regional School System has always been held in high esteem, but now it seems as if the community is willing to let it go. It means the loss of a few dollars from the taxpayers' pockets. What the community does not realize is that refusing to spend money now will bring higher costs in the future. Prices of materials will surely go up and any problems avoided now will be much larger in the future.

The defeat of the budget was a shocking blow to all those who wanted to see a better educational system, adults and students alike. Better educational facilities are needed right now as they are ever going to learn to deal with the complex society in which we live.

Apparently the majority of the Princeton community is not willing to see any improvements put in their schools if it means any financial loss to them whatsoever. What they fail to realize is that there is no cut rate way to a quality education. As students of a Princeton school and members of the community, we are truly discouraged.

Editor's Note: The letter was written by Betsy Hartman, Mary Hulland, Simon Moss, David Goides, Rachel Sinaue and Dick Winterbottom.

"Shocked" Over Budget Defeat
 To the Editor of Town Topics:
 As parents and citizens of Princeton, we were shocked at the results of the vote on the Princeton Regional School Board. It indicates to us that education occupies a surprisingly low priority in the sense of values of the citizens of our community.

We feel that the Board of Education and the Administration faced up to the responsibility of providing a sound education for all children attending our schools. They worked hard and hard to provide us with a budget which represents

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Still, after seven years of trying, Princeton has no new post-office building. Trenton has had several government-built post-offices in the interim. Others have been built all around Princeton.

Do you think our government is doing something? If anybody has an answer, I'd sure like to hear it.

 14 Nantux Street

Editor's Note: Mr. Lenhart heads the Chamber of Commerce Committee which has been working since the start of the present decade to provide Princeton with a new and larger post office.

a modest increase in cost compared to the rise in cost of other goods and services.

The School Board has not been forced to cut the budget and the quality of our schools will be hurt. The saving to the individual taxpayer is a pittance compared to the larger benefits to the system. This budget is now a marginal one, and we cannot expect the Board of Education to develop a long range program of improvement under these restrictive conditions.

We feel that Princeton is extremely fortunate to have Dr. Philip McPherson as Superintendent of Schools. He has the ability to create an outstanding school system such as Princeton can afford, and supported by parents.

He can offer creative leadership in a system designed to serve the need and fulfill the potential of every child, but without the money to implement the program, and not unless the administration staff is strengthened to that the superintendent can devote more time to improving the system and less to routine business.

The strength of any organization, whether it is a business or a school system, depends on the last analysis on the strength of its administration. Many people have moved to Princeton because of its reputation as an educational center and because they wanted to send their children to a good school system. In moving here, they presumably accepted the responsibility for paying for the school system that attracted them.

If there has been a lack of communication between the School Board and the citizens, this can be corrected. It is not, however, a valid excuse for abandoning the responsibility for the education of our children, and for only providing them with the minimum.

Unless all concerned get behind the School Board and strongly support its efforts to work toward a first rate school system, we are going as that it will no longer have the attractions, a and advantage which have set it apart from other communities.

The election on February 26 to our last chance to show that we value our public schools sufficiently to support them financially.

Editor's Note: Signatures were those of Rachel P. Soffen, 85 Longview Dr.; Sylvia Nichols, 20 Longview Dr.; Marvin Bruce, 77 Longview Dr.; Marvin C. "Don't Push the Schools"

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 We urge the voters of Princeton to reconsider their school budget vote and vote "yes" on February 26.

We wish that the beleaguered taxpayers who last week projected the ever-increasing chunks taken out of their incomes spend some money more judiciously. We wonder why there isn't a greater campaign to encourage private school busing, which would reduce school taxes effectively. Why aren't assemblymen and senators (statewide) being deluged with this request?

We realize that a "tax payers' revolution" rages high in the country today. But the schools must also contend with a social revolution and a technological revolution which call for all our resources — plus! "Not" votes slowly bring about physical deterioration of our schools, the contraction of curriculum development, and, perhaps most importantly, terrible discouragement to fine teachers.

Please don't punish the schools for the frustrations of our modern world. With genuine concern as taxpayers, parents and teachers,

"Shocking Discourtesy"

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 I am shocked and distressed at the discourtesy manifested toward the School Board last Thursday at the hearing on the revised school budget.

Is this the way to maintain fine education for all Princeton children?

PTO-PTA Support Budget.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 I am the undersigned member of the PTO-PTA Regional Council, wish publicly to announce our support for the revised school budget presented to the public on February 8, 1968.

We call for an affirmative vote on February 26 from all citizens of Princeton who wish to maintain the quality of our school system. It is our belief that the Board of Education of the Princeton Regional School District serves a vital confidence and recognition of its arduous effort to provide a school system with high standards for academic achievement and citizenship training. It has done so under the triple constraints of minimizing costs, the large expenditures required by State Law, and of meeting the need to pay teachers' salaries consistent with the cost of living.

We want to make it clear that we are expressing our opinions here as individual citizens of the community who, in the elected executive boards of the PTO's & A's, have been in an especially favorable position to observe the dedicated work of our School Board.

Editor's Note: The letter was signed by Eleanor Angoff, President, PTO-Littlebrook; Ruth Lesser, President, PTO Middlebrook; Martha Challenor, President, PTO-Riverside; Jean Enders, President, PTO-Regional Council; Jean Gilpin, President, PTA John Witherspoon; Alice Maile, President, PTA High School; Penny Thomas, President, PTO Johnson Park.

Ask Budget Be Approved

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 The school board presented the revised budget at another public meeting last Tuesday. Had the Board made the same revisions after the first public meeting, it might have avoided the defeat of the budget at the meeting. Although no great sayings will be made and taxes will still rise by a very large percentage and although I opposed the first budget, I believe it to be very important.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PRINCETON

- On Tuesday, February 20, a revised school budget will be presented to the voters of this community.
- The Board of Education has cut the original budget by 103.50 dollars.
- Some programs will be eliminated and others reduced. Further dollar reductions could have a long lasting detrimental effect on the quality of education we believe Princeton wants for its children.

that the new budget be accepted.
It should be accepted for several reasons. First, within the legally allowed time, not much more could be done than omitted. Second, the new budget, in the case of a second budget rejection by the voters, anchors the (borough and Township Councilmen or the State), who are less familiar than the school board with the system's needs, would have to make a decision out.

The danger of this lowering the quality of education is obvious. Further, there may be serious harm done to the morale of the staff.

The voters' acceptance of the revised budget, on the other hand would place the board and administration under a number of definite obligations. The administration states that it needs the proposed increase of its staff to undertake the reviewing of existing programs and projects, that the citizens have demanded.

This review should proceed expeditiously and with objectivity and its results should be made public long before the next budget is submitted. A more range plan must be set and priorities stated.

After a tax rise of 10 percent in two years, enough pruning of past and present projects should be done to hold the line for a year or two. New tax increases in the next few years should be for clearly defined improvements to education only, not for more of the same. The school board in five years, right the omission, which I believe caused this year's budget defeat. To equate and to convince the community of the need of projected expenditures.

Let us give the board the time to go to work and do the planning and reviewing that the community has a right to expect. Let us appeal to the board for emphasis on educational quality, at the sacrifice, if necessary, of other desirable services. Voting the budget down again cannot save much more money this year, but may harm what we are trying to improve. A warning has been given, that board and administration should not disregard lightly.

Fable Economy.
To the Editor of Town Topics: February 6 was indeed a very sad day for our children in Princeton. What was accomplished by a "NO" vote on the school budget?

To save space, I will list on by a few of the items that had to be cut:

1) The bussing of children in grades K-5 who live between 1/2 miles and 2 miles from school. This was a long overdue and necessary item to be included in the school budget. Anyone with any compassion and understanding for those families who cannot drive their children to school can understand the importance of this expenditure.

2) The deletion of the expenditure for the summer school program which would have allowed the children who failed a course to take it over again in the summer school without having to pay $40. There are children in this category whose families cannot afford $40 and these are the very pupils who need help.

3) The cut-back in the summer school program for pre-kindergarten children. This program encompasses a "head-start" approach for those youngsters who are not taken to museums, libraries, zoos, and who do not own books or toys. Also, included in this program were children who had special emotional or physical needs that might have been helped by a trained teacher in an organized and creative atmosphere.
Etc., etc.

What did we have by this? Approximately on the average of $4 a year for a homeowner in the borough and $1 in the Township. I appeal to the voters in Princeton not to allow this to happen again.

The reactionary elements in our community now have a hold in our schools, and this is only the beginning. In many communities (and I lived in one of the schools have deteriorated because of "NO" vote by well-meaning but mislead people. Unless we see this does not happen again we will witness in the future classes from 35 to 45 poor administrative personnel because the good people who stay here, members of the Board who are concerned with money but not with quality education and double sessions in the high school, etc. Is this what we want?

Billy Marshall, 19, 64 Clay Street. At a preliminary hearing held Tuesday, the charges against them were waived by their attorney, public defender Charles Popkin. They were sent to Mercer County Jail to await action by a grand jury, in default of $5,000 bail each. In Michael Carmichael's case, the charge of the raid. He was assisted by Sgt. Procaccio and Detective John J. Bellow and Charles Harris.

"SITE REVIEW" MADE.
First, Under New Plan. "I was tremendously impressed with the way the site plan review board operated," commented John Lasky of ORC at the Township Planning Board meeting Monday night.

ORC was opposed to the new ordinance at first. "I was concerned about how it might inhibit an architect, how it could be enforced—that kind of thing. Our architect had drawn up a plan we thought was really great, but when we met with the site plan people, their comments and suggestions made it even better. We got real 'value received.'"

ORC's existing building on North Harrison, was the first to come before the Township's new site-plan review board.

Recommendations of the new board were adopted by the Planning Board Monday night, and now ORC can go ahead.

The board suggested only that ORC omit one parking space at each pedestrian entrance to the parking area, and rearrange the tree-planting pattern.

Site-plan members are expected to choose a chairman next week.

Where are the state's plans showing changes in the new Kingston bridge alignment?

Frank Parker of the state highway department, told the Township some time ago that the municipality would receive plans showing changes in the state but nothing has happened.

Mr. Sander reported Monday night that he has written to state highway engineer James H. Schuyler (with a copy to Transportation Commissioner David Goldberg), complaining about the lack of cooperation shown to the Planning Board and to residents of the Kingston bridge area.

Address: Cedar Grove, The segment of The Great Road that was cut off when the new alignment went through, will be called "Cedar Grove Road," after the historic name once used for that part of the Township.

Letters from the 17 people who own property on the old section, showed that a majority liked the "Cedar Grove" idea. The Planning Board will recommend that Committee about the new name. The old name will not be made into a sub-decade, as suggested earlier.

Mrs. Mary E. Struve, Cherry Valley Road, presented to the Planning Board that her pond had become clogged with mud and covered with duck-slick as a result of construction work in the North Hill at Princeton, subdivision of Frederick Sigler.

In the letter, Mrs. Struve said Mr. Sigler had disregarded all requests to clean up pond, and through his attorney, had declined to compensate her for what she regards as damages.

She presented photographs showing the pond and stream, and told the board that form enough to get it cleaned up.

The Board wrote to Mr. Sigler directing him to appear show cause why his preliminary approval should not be rescinded. If he doesn't appear, the approval will be automatically cancelled.

TWO CARS SKID

On Rosedale Road, Two cars skidded out of control on Rosedale Road Saturday morning within a half-hour of each other. Both mishaps took place east of Fairway Drive near Stony Brook.

At 9:02, Margaret Nevin, 62, Rosedale Road, skidded into a tree. Alfred White of Featherbed Lane, Hopewell, following behind the Nevin car, took her to Princeton Hospital where she was admitted for x-rays and treatment of facial cuts. Her car was towed away.

At 9:38, a car driven by John H. Boyajian, 30, of Trenton, went into a spin and struck a tree.

His wife, Jessie, was admitted to Princeton Hospital with a broken shoulder. Mr. Boyajian suffered a dislocation of his shoulder, when he was thrown from the car.

Their car was towed away. Sgt. John Petrone investigated.

John A. Hendrickson, 45, of Pennsauken received a facial cut Sunday morning when his car ran into a pole near 234 State Road.

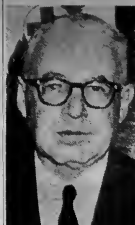

Mr. Hendrickson told Township police that he was carrying an ice boat on the roof of his car and the boat started to slip off. He hit his brakes, causing his car to skid on ice, a distance of 30 feet before it rammed the pole.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD

Bernard Barenholtz, who has served the fund as a trustee, campaign chairman and president, received the Gerard B. Lambert Community Service award. Mr. Barenholtz has also served as president of the Family Service Association.

West Windsor-Plainsboro vice president; Robert Iodemann, Montgomery Township; Rocky Hill vice president; John C. Yeoman, treasurer; William E. Coley, secretary and executive director; and Fred M. Porter Jr., assistant secretary.

By David Steadman of 84 Snowden Lane.

Mr. Steadman told Borough police that the ring had been lost seen on January 26, when his wife had placed it in her jewelry box in their bedroom. Police reported there was no sign of forced entry.

WORK CENTER APPROVED

For Bell Tel. in W. Windsor. A work center proposed for Alexander Road in West Windsor Township by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. was approved this week despite the misgivings of two township committees and the objections of nearby residents.

The governing body endorsed earlier by a 4-1 vote approval given by the municipality's zoning board. The lone negative vote was cast by Committeeman Eli S. Firsh.

Melvin G. Firman said he also opposed the center but would have to vote "yes." Mayor Malcolm B. Rowal commented that he would have to vote "yes" because "indications are that the noise level will not be too high." Both men said that they had visited similar work centers and had not heard any excessive noise.

$2500 RING MISSING

From Snowden Lane Home. An emerald and diamond engagement ring valued at $2,500 was reported stolen last week

A pair of skills and ski poles with a combined value of $160 were stolen Sunday from their owner, Robert Patton, Princeton High School student. Mrs. William R. Patton, 20, Laurel Road, told police that her son had returned from a ski trip and had been dropped off at the rear of the First Presbyterian Church on Nassau Street. When he came out later, the skills were gone.

Gerard Mertz, 211 Bull Run Road, Ewing Township, reported last week that he lost his black leather wallet while he was in the x-ray department at Princeton Hospital. He told police it had contained $8 and the usual personal papers.

LOSSES LICENSE 30 DAYS

In Township Court. Melvin J. Best, 24, 239 Witherspoon Street, had his license revoked for 30 days last week for careless driving by Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr.

Fined $15 each were Carolyn J. Abraham, 31, 24 Edwards Place, careless driving, and Harold Mynes, 17, of Belle Mead, driving without the presence of a licensed driver. Peter Sannino, 46, 16 Oakland Road, charged with failing to yield for a stop sign, received a $12 suspended fine. Magistrate Miller agreed with the defendant's contention that his vision had been obscured by a large tree at the intersection of Valley Road and Ewing Street.

In Borough court Monday evening, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined William J. Mathias, 18, a student at Westminster Choir College, $30 for leaving the scene of an accident.

James W. Parr, 58, Elm Ridge Road, paid $16 for speeding, and Guy T. Divalio, 28, Opessum Road, Skillman, paid $12 for a stop sign violation.

Two Princeton drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles for exceeding the point limit.

Gilbert V. Hemley Jr., 31, Ridgewood Court, surrendered his for 45 days, and David S. Jaquison, 21, 30 Galbreath Drive, One Month.

MAN FACES HEARING
In Minor Violations, Ramon Cruz of Elm Avenue, will appear in Borough Court Monday to face charges of illegally selling beer to minors. He is presently free on $50 bail. Cruz was arrested Friday night by Sgt. Charles Harris on Witherspoon Street near Wileg. After he had been allegedly purchased beer for three juveniles, handed it to them and received money in return. Police said that the defendant has been suspected of buying liquor for juveniles for some time.

STUDENT NABBED AGAIN
On Narcotics Charged, Paul Dyer, 21, of 123 Jefferson Road, already faced charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors as a result of a narcotics raid at the Palmer Motel Inn on Route One, Princeton, where he was arrested again on narcotics violation charges.

Dyer, together with Louise Zimmerman of Hamilton Township, Alvin D. White of Ewing Township and Frank Karestsky of Vineland, will have a hearing in New York Criminal Court on Tuesday.

New York police said they found small amounts of heroin and amphetamine in a room in the Hilton Hotel occupied by Dyer. The discovery of a Pennsylvania Railroad Station locker key in the room led them to two pounds of marijuana stored in the locker.

White and Miss Zimmerman were also arrested in the January 5 raid at the Palmer Motel Inn. He was charged with possession of narcotics, as well as contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

POLICE TEST PLANNED
For Borough Patrolmen, A written, 90 minute examination conducted by State Police for an opening in the Borough police department will be given next Wednesday, February 22, in the Council Room at Borough Hall, 31 Stockton Street.

Applicants may be picked up any time at the police desk accepted into the Police Test. Peter J. McCrohan pointed out yesterday, a list will be established when the examination for future appointments.

By state for a Borough patrolman is one of the highest in the state, said Chief McCrohan. Patrolmen start at $7.84 and can work up to $8.106. The work week is 42 hours.

Other benefits include paid holidays and vacations, excellent pension and inclusive pro-

SOLDIER WRITES HOME
Send Pictures of Mike! Mike Callaghan is four months old and the apple of his old man's eye. His "old man" is SP4 Thomas Callaghan, 29, not old enough to vote, but an Army signal corpsman at beleaguered Da Nang, Vietnam, since early August. He caught a glimpse of Mike at the hospital during an emergency leave when the child was born last fall. Since then, he's been requesting pictures.

SP4 Callaghan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Callaghan of Mountain Avenue, wife, Gloria, and young Mike live in Lawrenceville.

A radio repairman with the Army's 37th Signal Battalion, SP4 Callaghan recently helped put up a 250-ft. radio tower at the Marine outpost at Khe Sanh. They found the morning that the VC had dropped mortars on the tower and that was the end of it. His father relates, "They didn't put up another."

He signed up for a three-year tour of duty in August, 1967, reporting first to Ft. Dix. He was trained at Ft. Gordon, Ga., to repair back packs and other radio equipment and to install radio and hook-ups. However, at Da Nang, where the situation tightens every day, he is also sent on patrol with the infantry.

Living in Bunkers. The men, he writes home, are now living in bunkers at the base, instead of the barracks, and are confined to the compound. "They can't even leave to get to the PX," his family says.

His parents send him food packages containing such relief from regular rations as cans of potato sticks, smoked oysters, smoked clams and sardines. His father helped Trinity select gifts from servicemen last Christmas.

"We had a letter from him on Saturday. He says he's ready for R&R ('Rest & Recreation') leave," his father reports. "He keeps asking for pictures of Mike."

MRS. SMITH RESIGNS
As Headmistress of Chapin, The resignation of Mrs. Olga T. Smith, as headmistress of the Chapin School has been accepted by Steven J. R. Frohlich, president of the school's board of trustees. He said her decision was "accepted by the trustees with great reluctance and regret."

Mrs. Smith, who had served 12 years in that capacity, is leaving due to "pressing family" reasons. She expects to return to Chapin as head of the Health Department after a sabbatical leave. Until a new head of school is appointed, Mrs. Harrison Young will be acting headmistress.

HEALTH BOARD SEARCHES
For Defective Heaters. The Borough Board of Health has issued a warning against certain types of gas-fired heaters that are defective and may leak carbon monoxide. The Board is investigating the problem in conjunction with the national Public Health Service and Sears Roebuck & Co., the manufacturers of the heaters.

The Sears units have been identified as four models, gas-fired baseboard through the wall heaters, including Homart Model No. 133.72561 or 133.72561, 133.72562 or 133.72562, 133.72563 or 133.72563, and 133.72564 or 133.72564. The plates showing model number are located on top of the burner boxes.

Postmortem—The Post is which has announced attempts to locate and replace them.
 The Board of Health said also that defective heaters of the same type have been manufactured by the Sarnes Stamping and Enamel Co. of Chattanooga, Tenn., which is larger in business. These may be identified by the manufacturer's identification plates located behind the baseboard heater's decorative screen.

LASER EXHIBIT SET
 At Junior Museum. A laser hologram demonstration will be presented this weekend at Junior Museum, 110 Nassau St., by David Botwick, a member of ICA's laser research team. The instrument to be used in the exhibit was designed for demonstration to professional scientists and engineers.

The Junior Museum's open weekends from 10 until 5 p.m. Center, formerly known as the Nassau Street School. The Museum's exhibit room is most accessible from the parking lot on Williams St.

The display in this month's "Communications and Computers" exhibit include antique telegraph keys, and computer teletypes. J. K. Randall of the unit's music staff has added the original computer-written music to the collection.

The exhibit has been arranged by Mrs. Marvin L. Goldberger, the acting Junior Museum director.

ALUMNI TO GATHER
 For University Meeting. The 5th annual midwinter meeting of the National Alumni Association is expected to draw 1,000 men to Dallas, Texas, on Nov. 29-30. Principal speakers at the luncheon will be the Rev. Carl D. Reimers, Assistant Dean of the University Chapel, and Dr. P. Stephen Hickey, assistant professor of history, who will talk on "Today's Undergraduate."

The meeting is preceded by discussion between faculty and students of the senior faculty once their teachers. Four topics will be discussed at 10:30 a.m., various incidents on campus.

TUTORING NEEDS
 For Math. Especially. Volan her tutor, to work with young women in the Princeton Study Center are needed immediately by one with a Study Center tutor waiting list.

Math tutors are particularly needed, according to Center officials. Volunteers may be recruited by calling Mrs. Thomas Swetland, 281-224. A meeting will be held next Wednesday, Feb. 27, at 8 p.m. in the public library.

The Study Center, now in its sixth year, is open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in the Community Park School 110 Nassau St. for students, 6th through 12th grades, who want a quiet place to study. A public library is on the same block. The school is only one block from the library.

The tutoring program serves youngsters who need more help in their studies. Boys and girls have been working with tutors an average of 15 minutes each week, with two sessions at the school. Eight of the tutored students have already graduated and are doing class work with assistance.

A new program at the Center this year is for adults who have asked for help in reading. These adults meet with their volunteer teachers in the public library.

WORKSHOP FOCUSES
 graphy Workshop of the First Presbyterian Church has given a photography class on Nassau Street as the first exhibit in the church's display gallery, which opens Saturday.

The exhibit is entitled "The Third Eye," a tutorial in Zen Buddhism which denotes the ability to see the "essence" of an object or situation. The show will include samplings from the portfolios of ten workshop members, and will introduce the work of George A. Peterson, who is studying privately under the director of the workshop, Sam Tamashiro. The workshop meets each Sunday morning for 12 weeks under Mr. Tamashiro, the art director of World Outlook Magazine, and is one of several adult classes offered to the community by the church.

The class has been primarily on shooting assignments and critiques, and also exposes its members to professional photography and writings.

THE LADY IS A MARINE
 With 38-year record, Vol, at the Marine Corps, are celebrating their 25th anniversary this week, but one Marine in Princeton will soon be celebrating her 25th.

She is Lillian O'Malley, 276 Western Way, who enlisted in the Marine Corps back to the Marine Corps. She is now on active duty, and holds the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, honorary retired, USMC.

Lively, pink-cheeked and white-haired, Mrs. Daly recalls with delight the day in November, 1918, when she entered the Office of the Commanding General of Marine Corps in Washington, as a secretary. Amistice came only two days later, but Mrs. Lillian O'Malley remained for the next 19 years, under civil service, as Staff Secretary to five successive Marine Corps Commanders.

In 1938, she received a medal of the Army Field Artillery. They moved to Princeton and then to the Marine Corps. She was organizing Princeton's Civil Defense during the early days of World War II.

After Col. Daly's sudden death in 1942, his widow went back to the Marine Corps, as commissioned a Captain in February, 1945. She served on the Commanding General, Fleet Marine Force, San Diego Area, at Camp Elliott in 1945.

Here in Princeton, she is a member of St. Paul's Church, the Jewish Synagogue, Union, the Present Day Church, and Friends of the Princeton University Museum.

MUSIC In Princeton

CHAMBER CONCERT SET
 By University Department. The Princeton Music Department will present a chamber concert Tuesday, at 8:30 P.M. in 10 McCosh Hall. Violinist Pauland will perform with Yugi Takahashi, will perform Sections D for Violin and Piano, Mazur's Sonata in E Flat Major, Brahms's Sextet for Violin and Piano, and the Mazur's Sonata in G Major by Brahms. Mr. Zukofsky, a graduate of the Juillard School, a pupil of Ivan Galamian, has been awarded prizes in both U.S. and foreign competitions. Tickets to the concert are available at McCarter Theatre and at the door the night of the concert.

CHAMBER MUSIC PLANNED
 By Friends of Music. The Friends of Music will sponsor a program of chamber music Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the Woolworth Center. Freshman violinist Jan Sloan will perform Brahms's Sonata in G Major, accompanied by Robert Freeman on the piano. He will also play Bach's Chaconne. Sopranist pianist Stuart Sopher will play Beethoven's "Waldstein" sonata and works by Chopin. The public is invited without charge.

JANIS IAN COMING
 To Alexander Hall. Janis Ian, age 17, writes and sings about the alienation of today's young people, and she will bring her words and music to Alexander Hall on Saturday, March 2, at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at McCarter Theatre.

Miss Ian has been called (by McCarter) "The fastest-rising artist in the folk music field since the advent of Joan Baez in 1961."

She is recording of "Society's Child," which she wrote, sold more than a million copies, and which (and lyrics) in 1966, has called her. "The disaffection to Boy Dylan."

SEGOVIA RETURNING
 Some Seats Remained. Andres Segovia, renowned classic guitarist, will make his fifth consecutive appearance in McCarter on Monday, March 11, at 8:30. Tickets are now on sale at McCarter Theatre.

Mr. Segovia is appearing as the final event in the "Music at McCarter" series. A few days later, but Mrs. Lillian O'Malley remained for the next 19 years, under civil service, as Staff Secretary to five successive Marine Corps Commanders.

AMATEURS TO MEET
 At Woolworth Center. The Society of Music Amateurs will meet Sunday at 9 p.m. in the Woolworth Center of Music. The program will include a concert of William Tregio will conduct a program of Vaughn Williams' "The Second Symphony" and "The Second Symphony" will include soloists Jean Thomas, soprano; Susan Robinson, soprano; Anne Wright, alto; Barry Abelson, tenor; and George Gray, bass.

The public is invited to attend the meeting to listen or participate in the program for music and refreshments may be made through Mrs. M. Goldberger, 281-224.

Robert Freeman, conductor of the University orchestra, will also appear as soloist in the "Music at McCarter" series. The show is sponsored by the Hebrew Academy of North Queens.

OPERA GROUP SET
 To Stiaz La Boheme. The Opera Association will present its first production of the year, La Boheme, at Bayside Jewish Center, Bayside, Long Island, Saturday at 8 p.m. The show is sponsored by the Hebrew Academy of North Queens.

With the exception of the role of Mimì, which will be sung by Josephine Lima, the cast for the opera is the same as the Association's production last summer at Washington Crossing Open Air Theatre. The production is directed by Igor Chichagov.

BUSINESS In Princeton

TAX RETURN DUE
On Business Property If you're in business and you own tangible personal property — whether it be a printing press or a hairdryer — you must pay a tax on it — and it's due this Thursday.

Under the new Business Personal Property Tax, owners of tangible personal property used in business must file their returns by Thursday with the New Jersey Property Tax Section, 20 West Front Street, Trenton, William Kinney, Acting Director of the Division of Taxation, called attention to the requirement that one-half of the tax due must be paid on Thursday; the balance will be due on or before September 15. By law, failure to receive a return does not relieve the taxpayer of the obligation to file a return and pay the tax.

The tax covers chiefly business machinery and equipment. Excepted are such items as inventories, personal property, supplies used in production, small tools and motor vehicles.

This is the first year of filing under the new Business Personal Property Tax Law which was enacted in 1964. Approximately 400,000 of the punch-card size forms have been mailed to individuals, partnerships, corporations and other business firms.

Street, has been named Associate Survey Director. He is involved in research activities. She joined the ORC staff in 1959 after working at Spectra Studios, Inc., in date processing.

James P. Ouss, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, has become ORC's new Assistant Survey Director. He has served in the Air Force since 1963, after graduating from Miami University of Ohio and studying public relations at Boston University.

... AND TV, TOO

Film Firm Shoots Ahead. "They're not encyclopedia-type," explains Dick Roberts when he tells about the documentary films his company makes for the USA. He's a little diffident about the term "cinema verité," but that's the way his staff describes his technique.

Mr. Roberts is a cheerfully bearded young man who runs a company called, with absolute accuracy, the Dick Roberts Film Company. He and his staff work in a suite of basement rooms in the Bowers building at Nassau and Harrison, each room about 800 sq. ft.

Many Roberts films are made for the USA, and this means that the company has an audience of millions, although its product rarely sees — Continued on Next Page the history of a domestic production booth.

Here's West Africa. The millions are scattered all over the world in the dozens of countries served by USA, Roberts' latest film, for example, is "Better Than Before," a documentary on the beginnings of the trade union movement in West Africa. It had a private showing last Friday at the Garden Theatre in Princeton. To make "Better Than Before," Mr. Roberts spent three months last year in West Africa. Now he's off, now and then to Turkey, where he is researching a film on a university in Ankara for USA.

On his own, because it's a subject he believes in strongly, Mr. Roberts is making a film in Mexico on the birth control pill. And then he grins: "We're having a home fun day, one called the 'Bathhouse Game' about a group of men who were each in a night at a Turkish bath in New York."

Three Dick Roberts commercials are on television. One, for Western Electric, projects the company's "clear-sight" image. The other two are for the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Roberts started his film company four years ago. He had worked in Paris and was associated with On Film in Princeton.

NUCLEAR STUDY ENDED
By Princetonians. The peaceful applications of nuclear explosives has been the subject of an 18-month economic study completed by Mathematica, 1 Palmer Square, a research and consulting organization. Called "Project Plowshare," the investigation studied the use of nuclear power in the production of natural gas from the bottom of shale oil recovery mining applications and making craters. Other applications such as storage, disposal and water recharge were also analyzed.

Principally, the study concluded that the use of nuclear

A Dick Roberts Film Company, short, called "R.S.V.P." will be shown at The Garden Theatre when "The Graduate" moves into the Garden from the Playhouse.

Mr. Roberts made the short in France on a 16mm film and then blew it up to standard size to see how it would look. Richard Knight, manager of Princeton's two theatres, liked what he saw and booked "R.S.V.P." with "The Graduate."

The brief film made the rounds in the various European festivals, picking up awards in several of them.

The project was directed by Prof. Oskar Morgenstern, chairman of the board of Mathematica, an economist and analyst of national, military and political issues. Dr. Klaus Peter Heiles, staff economist, assisted.

Classroom Is "WIRED"
At Johnson Park, A third-grade classroom at Johnson Park School has been "wired" so that groups of children can hear what is being played on the tape which is disturbing their classmates.

To "wire" a room, a piece of electrical tape is attached to the tape recorder and then completely around the ceiling. Anyone using ear phones can hear what is being played on the tape which is inaudible to anyone without ear phones. This use of electronics is part of a program called Individualized Prescribed Instruction.

Use the tape recorder and am doing it's helpful and easy if it fits what you want to do," says the classroom teacher, Miss Mary St. John. "If IPI doesn't fit your program then you have to look for some other way to help each individual child."

Although she has found many ways to adopt the device to her teaching, Miss St. John finds it to be of greatest use in spelling and reading. Each Monday she gives the class a pre-test in spelling and then gives them a final test on Friday. By taping the test, she can make up exams easily to absenteees or give drill work to those who need special attention without disturbing the rest of the class.

Useful in Science, Lectures can be replayed for the entire class, stopping the machine at any moment for discussion. IPI can be especially helpful in science, too.

As an example, Miss St. John reported that her class has only six microscopes. Usually, she said, she has to take time out from instructing the rest of the class to give specific instructions and directions to the six using the microscopes.

scopes. Now she records her instructions and gives each a set of microscopes. They can "tune-in" which permits her to continue with the rest of the class without interruption.

"Right now, the novelty of the machine is good and feel that the children like to use it," said Miss St. John. But I said that it is a fit the outside noise and makes it concentrate the children to concentrate."

She emphasized, however, that the device was not a cure all for all teaching problems. Miss St. John concluded that it was useful only in that the teacher's program and that a program should not be altered just to permit use of the recorder.

HOW TO DETECT CANCER
YWCA Plans Special Program. Two films can detect cancer followed by discussion led by three Princeton doctors are scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday, February 26, in the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church under the sponsorship of the Princeton YWCA.

The free program, open to all area women, has been arranged by Mrs. Doris Lee, YWCA program director, and Dr. James Chandler of the Mercer County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

The ACS films, "Breast Self-Examination: Time and Two Women" will open the program. The question-and-answer period will be conducted by Dr. David J. Ross, Dr. Barlow Stevens and Dr. Ellwood W. Godfrey.

The films alert women to the urgency of early detection of cancer, still the only known protection against the disease. "Time and Two Women," narrated by Dr. Joe V. Meigs of Boston, deals with the "Pap" smear (uterine cell examination) which has reduced deaths from cervical cancer by some 50 percent. The message of hope is also loud in "PSG," with Dr. Emerson Day of the Strang Clinic, New York, explaining the role women may play in guarding themselves against cancer of the breast—the prime cancer site.

CIRCUS IS COMING

The Princeton Patrolman's benevolent Association 130 will sponsor the Sells & Gray Circus that day. All proceeds will be used for FBA Youth Activities and the FBA Building Fund.

Township Ptl. David G. Wilbur, chairman of the fundraising committee, announced that the ticket sale for the circus is now being conducted by telephone. Persons and businesses will be asked to buy tickets which will be presented to needy children who might not otherwise be able to attend. Information on adult tickets will be released later.

IN NEW YORK, A COLOSSAL FLOP: Michael Tickin believes New Jersey would do well not to copy its neighbor state, New York, and adopt a state lottery. Pointing out that the New York lottery has been a "colossal flop," Mr. Tickin says a sounder basis to raise needed revenue would be higher taxes. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Are you in favor of a state lottery? If so, how do you think the money should be spent?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Michael Tickin, 212 John Street, graduate student in Japanese History, former (and last) coowner of Mercer County, I voted against the New York lottery when I was a New York resident and I think I would vote against it again. I think the New York lottery has shown itself to be a colossal flop. It has not produced the revenue it was expected to. I think if money is needed, it should be raised through higher taxes. This is a much sounder basis to raise state budget than to rely on an uncertain lottery. Another point: one of the hoped-for results of the New York Lottery was that it would cut into the take of the numbers rackets. The reason the New York lottery has not done this is that even selling lottery tickets at low as one dollar is still a lot more than the average numbers player is willing to play at one time. Most of them only bet 25 or 30 cents.

James W. Modestino, 403 A Devereux Avenue, graduate student, electrical engineering: Yes, I'd be in favor of it. With the money, I think they should do something similar to that in New Hampshire where they have used the receipts for better schooling. No doubt that alone would exhaust the money. I think a lot of Puritanical opinion has clouded the issue. I don't know of anything around with a lottery and once you come to that conclusion I think you have to be in favor of something like this as opposed to higher taxes.

Mrs. Ruth Sprall, South Brunswick Township, teachers' aid: Indeed I am! We need the money! I think they should use it on education and I'd like to see them help the local hospital right here in Princeton. They're having a lot of problems. And the cost of medicine today. Ugh! I also think they should help try to improve the highways, if possible. I don't see any harm in a lottery — people game anyway — if they can set it up within reason, without it costing too much. You know the government, though. It will take a fortune for them to set it up.

Edward Klein, New Brunswick, radio disc jockey: I'm in favor of a lottery and the big TOWN TOPICS readers every issue and pure of business school the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

expenses. The overhead would be less than horse racing. I'm all for this. It's not new. This country had a lottery or its equivalent at least 100 years ago. My heavens . . . they have lottery and number rackets all over. It's not on a legitimate basis! As for how the money should be spent, I don't know if it should be greenbooked for any particular thing.

Richard Goldfine, Boston, student at Cornell University: Yes, I'm in favor of a lottery because I don't think there is anything wrong with gambling. I think the money should be spent on health, education and welfare.

Charles Compton, Trenton, employee, Princeton Herald Printing: I would be in favor of it. If it were done in the right way, I feel it would help our tax burden. It could be used for educational purposes, for youth programs to help fight delinquency — yes, this way. I'd be much in favor of it.

Dr. Avner Robinson, 263 How-horne Avenue, podiatrist: I would say I'm not normally in favor of public gambling. However, in view of the fact we all know gambling exists and the state does not derive any benefits therefrom, I feel a properly conceived law controlling a lottery would enable the state to ease the budget strain and the extent of taxes on the point where it may be in benefit. I would say the money should be used in the areas of low income housing.

PEOPLE In The News

Prof. Arthur Maman, an associate professor in the university's Romance Languages Department, has been named assistant dean of the college and director of the board of advisers, effective July 1. He succeeds T. James Luce, Jr., who will return to full-time teaching in the Classics Department after spending next year as secretary to the faculty committee on examinations and standing.

Dr. Maman, president of the French Professors Association in America, joined the university faculty in 1958. A 40-year-old native of Algeria, he has taught in Norway and Canada and spent four years as a practicing lawyer in France. He has received degrees from the Sorbonne and Toulouse University.

Author of several books on French language and culture, Dr. Maman spent the summer of 1966 as Director of the Peace Corps Training Program for Morocco, while serving as a professor at the International College in Beirut, Lebanon. In 1962, he directed the university's N.O.E.A. Summer Institute for high school French and German teachers.

Jonathan F. Kesty, 6 Ober Road, has received a Ph.D. degree in psychology at Purdue University, at the Indiana University's midyear graduation.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Danbury, 4 Monroe Avenue, Lawrenceville, attended a meeting of the Midland Mutual Life Insurance Co. in Miami Beach, Mr. Danbury was invited to the meeting on a basis of high sales accomplishment.

TOURING LATIN AMERICA: These members of the New Jersey Farm Bureau are touring on a 17-day tour of Latin American countries, together with 22 other members of the organization. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Reed of Princeton and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Reed of Princeton and Fred De Windor left New York this month on IAN-Chile International Airlines for Lima, Peru. They will also stop in Santiago, Buenos Aires, Montevideo and Rio de Janeiro.

Mrs. Diane R. Gale, 6 Burn Tree Lane, Lawrenceville, has been awarded a B.A. degree at the winter commencement exercises of the University of Iowa. She was one of 24 graduates.

Cadet Terry R. Silverster, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Silverster, Boylston Road, has been named to the Superintendent's list at the U.S. Air Force Academy, in recognition of outstanding academic and military achievement. He is a sophomore there.

Air Force first Lt. David P. Lithgow, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Lithgow, 54 Alexander Street, has received six air medals for meritorious achievement during aerial flights in Vietnam, in the Air Force. He was cited for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful missions under hazardous conditions. Lt. Lithgow graduated in 1958 from Stockbridge High School.

Miss Kathryn Lahey, daughter of Mrs. James Lahey, 351 Heronwood Road, was one of 104 seniors honored recently at the Senior Day Convocation of Western College for Women, in Oxford, Ohio. Miss Lahey is a psychology major.

Dr. Robert S. Garber, former superintendent of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, has been named a visiting associate professor of psychiatry at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. Now medical director of the Carrier Clinic in Belle Meade, Dr. Garber is also a visiting professor of psychiatry at Rutgers Medical School.

Donald G. Herzberg, 171 Study Brook Lane, executive director of the Election Institute of Politics at Rutgers, has been named to the committee on Legislative Modernization of the Council of State Governments.

Leon-Francois Hoffman and Nicholas Wahl, associate professors of French literature and politics, respectively, at Princeton, will both serve this summer on the faculty of the Institut d'Etudes Francaises d'Avignon, in France, under a program sponsored by Bryn Mawr College.

Dr. Arthur V. Tobolsky, professor of chemistry at Princeton, has won the 1968 American Physical Society High-Polymer Physics Prize for his work. He will be given $1000 and a certificate at a March meeting of the society.

Alon S. Lapedes, 361 Franklin Avenue, and Christopher K. Brigham, Pennington, has presented papers at a state science conference, sponsored by the Junior Academy of Science. Lapedes, a student at Princeton High School, spoke on a theory of gravitation, and Brigham presented a plan for a transistorized resonance system. He attends Hopewell Valley Central High School.

Susan L. Clewell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Clewell, 36 Nassau Place, has been named the 1968 Betty Crocker Homecoming Girl to Morrow for Princeton High School. The PHS senior received the award as the result of a written examination early in December.

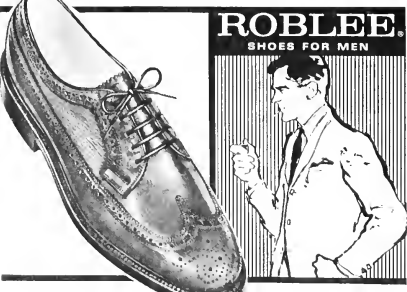

Miss Clewell is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards of up to $500. She has already been given a silver charm from General Mills, the sponsor of the program. About six million high school seniors across the country have participated in it since it began 15 years ago, in an effort to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career.

Philip Alampi, John L. McVeigh, and Otto C. Niederer have been appointed to the Pennington Traffic Advisory Board of the First Trenton National Bank. Mr. Alampi, state secretary of agriculture, received the Outstanding Citizen of New Jersey award in 1965, and lives in Pennington. Mr. McVeigh, president of the Pennington Quality Market, Inc., lives in Ewing Township, and Mr. Niederer, president of Otto Niederer Sons, Inc., resides in Trenton. The appointments were announced by Sydney G. Stevens of Princeton, chairman of the bank.

Brian B. Coosledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman B. Coosledge, Jr., Heathcote Road, Kingston, has pledged to the Sigma Chapter of Zeta Psi Fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania. He attended the Loomis School.

Are You A
"Do-it-Yourselfer?"
Well... Watch Out!

"Do-it-yourself" enthusiasts should be as much concerned with accident prevention and proper first aid procedures as they are with the ambitious projects they undertake.

"The really well-equipped home handyman should have adequate first aid equipment and to cope with emergencies. This is best accomplished by keeping a comprehensive first aid kit in the workshop."

The following tips are offered to avoid some of the most common injuries encountered in home improvement work:

1. If unaccustomed to physical labor, avoid lifting heavy objects. If heavy lifting is necessary, do it properly; do not lift by using back or abdomen muscles alone, but take advantage of the stronger muscles of the legs.

Wear gloves to avoid blisters, minor cuts and scrapes.

2. If the project calls for reaching high places, use a ladder — and never try to use a make-shift platform, boxes or chairs. Inspect ladders before using, for defects such as loose rungs and weakened hinges.

Always have a helper standing by at the bottom of the ladder, to hand up things as needed, and to prevent the ladder from sliding.

3. When working with power tools, make sure they are properly grounded to avoid the possibility of shock. Check the manufacturer's instructions and observe all recommended safety procedures no matter how trivial they might seem.

ART In Princeton

WILLIAM HANKINSON
At Present Day Club. The major business of William Hankinson's profession is in the realm of design and mural painting for hotels, private homes and large department stores. These assignments take him all over the United States and very often abroad, largely to England and the Netherlands,
but lately to Mexico.
From working closely at home with architects, engineers and interior decorators, he has developed a natural sense of proportion and an appropriateness in his subjects and technique to the overall scheme. Such versatility can produce an international theme in classical terms for a London restaurant, a coldy abstract pattern for a contemporary Bethlehem Steel office, an Oriental decorative panel for a hotel or a simply illustrative
"Alice in Wonderland"
for a children's store.

Though it may seem strange to dwell on this type of work, which obviously cannot be exhibited here, we feel that the point of view and techniques used in mural design apply
just as readily to Mr. Hankinson's more intimate landscapes, still-lives and portraits, which have been seen often in Princeton, New Jersey, Philadelphia, at the National Arts Club and the Architectural League of New York, of which he is a member.

He can handle an urn of flowers, a piece of furniture offering, pure decoration in color and form drawing. With pen and ink or paint, he draws architectural features which are not only decorative but dedicate a special character.
His cool crayon portraits are most "and" "Matthew" in his straw hat with folded hands, is a beautifully drawn and expressive portrait.

In water color, the method of applying the medium varies with the mood of the subject.
In oil painting he may use a more direct approach with pure color and uncluttered
design as in "Portuguese Boats".
To sum it up he says, "The subject matter seems to suggest the method," and we bear witness to a variety of each at the Present Day Club. In all
most all his work, however,
the concern with drawing, solid design and the personal or human element relative to the subject is paramount.

In particular from this show
we mention two watercolors which Mr. Hankinson points out as being in many ways
they are far apart; one of the tall-spired Dutch fishing fleet quitting dock at sunset and the other of a Jersey shore fishing pier with a few small boats emphasizing the blue color. Both have excellent composition and feeling of mood,
but the most freedom of expression and the most quality of color is in the oil painting in the room.

The dominant oil painting is "Portuguese Boats" with strands of little boats like chips on a beach, literally sauced with clear, cool, sharp colors contrasts a pictorial quality and to its very directness a real affinity to the Portuguese scene.

Mr. Hankinson, a native of South Carolina, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, studied at the Parsons School of Design and then for two years in Paris. Since 1950
he has been a free lance de-

TIGERS MUST REPEAT

Second Win Over Yale Vital. Still somewhat painfully aware that it blew all but one point of a 16-point lead over Yale on its own court, Princeton's basketball team will face the Elis again at New Haven Saturday night. Victory is essential to both teams: a loss for the Blue will mean virtual elimination from the race; a defeat for the Tigers will confront them with the need to defeat Columbia twice to gain the Ivy crown — once here on March 2 and again on a neutral court in the playoff caused by the 12-1 tie that a victory over the Lions is likely to create.

Saturday's battle will be preceded by a return match with Brown, a 96-38 loser in Dillon Gym last weekend. While Princeton barely escaped with its life at Providence a year ago, real trouble with this last-place Bruin quintet is difficult to visualize. Hopefully, the Tigers can repeat their early superiority over the bumbling Brownies so that the starters can be rested for the vital invasion of Payson Whitney Gym the next night.

Coach Joe Vancin's Yale squad has all the tenacity attributed to a Bulldog when it sees its intended victim about to move out of court. Down by 15-27 at the half and by 41-57 with 12 minutes left, the determined Elis staged a tremendous rally that all but turned the Tiger into a living room rug.

Outscoring the home team in field goals, 27 to 23, they steadily closed the gap until Princeton led by gap until (98-58). It took superb foul shooting by the hard-pressed Tigers to hold their slim margin inched back up to one on six straight free throws (four by Geoff Petrie, two by Joe Heiser) and at the end of the evening, they had converted 23 of 35 for a near fantastic 96%.

The seven-point spread held

"HE'S ALL OVER HIM, REF!" The fan's favorite cry when a home team player appears fouled seems justified on this occasion, but Yale's Roger Challen (15) failed to draw a whistle for the contact he had with Geoff Petrie (24). However, Tigers eventually won, 98-62, by converting 23 of 25 free throws after being outshot from the floor. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Richard C. Edwards) until the final buzzer for a 69-62 outcome. After an off night against Columbia, Heiser turned in his best performance of the season, hitting on 9 out of 12 from the floor and 5 of 5 from the line for 24 points. His 92% average in foul shooting is tops in the nation.

Dave Lawyer contributed 15 points and a great deal of valuable floor play on both offense and defense. Like Heiser, he was 5 for 5 in free throws; Chris Thorndore was 7 for 7 and Petrie 6 for 7, while John Haarlow mixed the only opportunity he had. It was very possibly the Princeton performance of all time in foul-shooting accuracy. For the first game this season,

Couch Pete Carroll went all the way with his five starters. They won without giving a balanced performance, but the time is now at hand when they have to be at their best in games that count the most, a quality they were unable to produce in the four defeats they have absorbed so far.

Brown Deep in Trouble. It's been a long time since any team partaking in a run-and-shoot contest scored only 19 points in each half in Dillon Gym, but that was the total output, Brown managed on Saturday. A sad-eyed man given alternately to verbal pats on the back and cutting sarcasm directed at his personnel, Coach Stan Ward admitted them back and forth so quickly that none of them developed much of a feel for what was going on.

Normally as noisy as any group of spectators at a basketball game, the Dillon crowd watched in almost total silence. If anyone had told a good joke in which the punch line was delivered in nothing more than a stage whisper, 3,000 people might have broken up simultaneously.

Actually, the proceedings were strictly on the defensive until the reserves began to take over in the second half. It was 30-19 at the intermission and the easy-going regulars shot no better than 40%.

When the patient bench began to get its first offensive chance, however, all hell broke loose. Court-length passes, driving layups, 25-foot scoring jumpers had the crowd in an uproar. With the starters laying a good foundation before they were replaced, the Tigers shot an eye-popping 71% in the second half and scored at a rate of better than three points a minute. The one-sided triumph raised their overall mark to 18-4 and kept them tied with Columbia in the show-down for first place.

Brightest hope for the Tigers at New Haven is the apparent return to condition of sophomore John Hummer, who played a good portion of the second half and showed no ill effects of his recent injury in pulling down ten rebounds. If he can meet the pace of top-flight competition in the two-month layoff, it will be a real banana for Princeton.

It will not dislodge Dave Lawyer from a starting assignment, because the little senior from Oxnard, Calif., nailed down the role of a regular since Hummer's injury in mid-December. However, John Haarlow is currently well below the form he showed as a junior last year and Hummer's availability as a replacement for him in the starting role or quick reserve capacity will greatly strengthen Princeton's chances in the stretch run.

SKATERS DISAPPOINT

In Loss to Harvard. To the disappointment of some 2,000 fans, Princeton continues to play its best hockey away from home.

After the stand-out road trip in late January, the Tigers barely got by subpar Yale in Baker Rink. Last week, they followed a tonight performance against Cornell at Ithaca with a lackluster loss to Harvard here.

Midway through the second period at Cornell, Princeton was no worse than 3-3, a fine achievement in view of the —Continued on New Page people who buy Volkswagen Station Wagons will have it soft in 1968.

Prediction:

For the last 17 years, Volkswagens have been making a big, tough, never-say-die reputation. Which could grind out to 25 miles on one gallon of gas. And take in over 176 cubic feet of whatever you wanted to carry.

Yet in spite of all that, certain people have been avoiding the VW Station Wagon. There's no need to mention names. You know who you are.

And we know why you've been avoiding our wagon. Because driving it was something of a big, tough, never-say-die experience. The fact is, our wagon looked luxury.

Okay, all you people. Get ready for a surprise. We have taken the VW Station Wagon and podded the stuffing out of it. We've put astro padding on the armrests, the dash, the front of the ashtray, even the window crank knobs. And if our wagon can't easily be called a load of roasts even now, it can at least be called a seat of them. (We went somewhat crazy with padding in that particular area.)

Then we put in 6 ventilation ducts all over. (You'll be able to give yourself airs if you own a new VW wagon.)

We also added a whole new suspension system underneath. It'll be a easy one, easy go, all the way.

And with all of that, the new bus far softies still has the old bus' hardy virtues.

So 1968 should be a good year for all you people who love your comfort. You've been going without the Volkswagen Station Wagon's wonderful gas mileage and storage capacity for a long time.

But you don't have to deny yourselves anymore.

It was a 4-4 final in a game that saw officials call seven penalties against the Tigers before one was charged to Cornell.

Their eyes set on a berth in the post-season ECAC tournament, the Tigers had a good shot at trimming the Crimson until they ran out of gas toward the end of the second period. A pair of goals in the first 20 minutes by Mike Wiggins and Terry Peleman gave them a 2-1 lead and much of the initiative.

Shortly before the second round ended, they began to allow Harvard shots on goal
that could only prove costly, and with a scant four seconds remaining, an uncovered shot beat goalie Ed Tichman. That permitted Harvard to skate into the dressing room to take the lead.

It is rather than a deficit, and no need to play catch-up hockey
on someone else's legs.
In the final period, the Ti-

HUN TAKES LEAD

In Penn-Jersey Race, Help
of any kind is always welcome
—especially when it is unexpected—and that's what the Hun School basketball team received last week from its Princeton School neighbor.
With Bob Turner peering in 33 points, Pennington upset
George School—previously unbeaten in league play—72 to 50. That, plus a pair of Hun victories over Perkiomen and the same Pennington quintet
last week, gave Hun a 9-1 league mark. George School is 6-1.

"This gives us the chance
we needed," said Hun coach Dave Leete. "We can win it or lose it ourselves now."

Hun's final league contest will be its second and all-important meeting with George on Tuesday on the latter's Newtown, Pa., court. Friday, it will be at Admiral Farragut.

Its final game with Blair on the 26th is tentative. Both schools will be competing in the same bracket in the state
prep school championships
then, and if Blair wins and Hun loses, there will be no game.

Perkiomen Easy. Against Perkiomen Saturday in the Seminary gym, Hun shot its way to a 42-21 half-time bulge.
Nine Hun players figured in the scoring with co-captain Pete Braverman leading the list with 16. Don Silverson, Mike Maguire and Herm Sreker all had 13. It was an 87-58 final.

In recognition of their outstanding service, these Executive Underwriters will be honored in the February 24 issue of The SATURDAY EVENING POST, in an advertisement devoted to members of the Penn Mutual Top Club.

A life insurance underwriter must give you, your family and your business exceptional service if he is to achieve success in his exacting profession. He must demonstrate noteworthy skill in understanding and forecasting your particular needs—and then tailor insurance programs to fit those needs precisely.

PDS SKATERS LOSE PAIR
West Cranford Friday. Seeking to avenge a defeat earlier this season and push its record back up to the .500 mark, the Princeton Country Day School hockey team will be at home Friday against Cranford. Game time is 4:30.

Cranford pulled out a 3:2 overtime victory against the Panthers in the teams' first meeting last month, scoring the tying goal with just one second left. A triumph by PDS would push its record back to .500, if the Panthers win over Lawrenceville in a contest scheduled to be played Wednesday afternoon.

Two losses, one to South Kent, 5-1 in overtime, and a 3-0 blanking by Kent on PDS's annual New England trip last Friday and Saturday dropped the Blue and White skaters to a 2-4 count. In the South Kent contest, a vexatious affair, PDS rallied from a 2-0 deficit to take a 4-3 lead in the second period.

South Kent put in the tying marker midway through the final period, and wrapped up matters just 50 seconds into the overtime with a tip-in shot. Jim Rodgers led the Panther offense with two goals, while Evan Derailson net one and set up Basil Station on an set.

Coach Harry Rulon Miller didn't comment on PDS' loss but commended that PDS had trouble clearing the puck out of its own zone. Apparently unaffected by the overtime loss, the Panthers came back for next afternoon and played what Rulon Miller called "our best game all year."

Unfortunately for the Blue and White, Kent turned out to be the best opponent it had faced all year and the team's

A HOT HAND FOR THE NAVY: Hank Schmidt, former Princeton High School basketball player, had a major role in the middies' victories last week over Penn State and Georgetown. He scored 16 points in Navy's 85-85 overtime game against Georgetown and the last of his 15 points — a free throw with seconds to go — defeated Penn State, 65-64.

Line effort went unrewarded. PDS was strongest in the first period and had Kent somewhat off balance.

However, the winners did some excellent skating of their own in the second and produced the three-goal margin. Perhaps because its first-string goalie was unavailable, Kent played well on defense and limited PDS to only nine shots during the game.

PDS's line hockey program has been producing good players for many years, but some times they show up wearing the uniform of the opposition. Three PDS alumni were instrumental in the losses their old alma mater absorbed over the weekend: Whit Raymond, and Keith Hereloford of South Kent, the former, team captain, and Wally Shew, captain of the Kent squad.

PDS SKATERS LOSE, 6-2
New Have Week Off. Unable to shake a losing streak that stretched to six games following Friday's 6-2 loss here to Cranford, the Princeton High School hockey team is having an eight day break before playing its final four contests.

Saturday afternoon at 1:15, the Blue and White will meet the Wissahickon Hockey Club for the second time this season at Baker Rink. Home games against Summit, Livingston and Princeton Day School complete the schedule.

Defensemen Jeff Delano and John Rice accounted for the two PHS goals in the Cranford Hockey Club contest. "Again," commented coach Prie Cook, "we go away too much in the beginning. We got much stronger as the game went on—you could see them warming up to it—but we let the game get away."

Both Delano's and Rice's shots were solo efforts. "That's the way most of our scores have come," said Cook. "Somebody breaks free and goes the length."

Cook also added that he thought Junior Chris Gurnier, who joined the team late, had skated well and that Clint Olson had displayed a lot of good hustle. "Olson's pretty aggressive. He shakes things up," he said.

HUN IN PLAYOFF
Lawrenceville, Too. Hun Basketball and Lawrenceville are among the four Princeton area basketball teams which will compete in the annual New Jersey Prep School Championships starting February 21. Two others competing in the eighth-team Class A event are Peddie and BML.

Opening round contests will pit Hun against DeBaron at the Newark Academy gym and Lawrenceville against Blair at St. Bernard's School. BML, seeking its third straight state crown, will oppose DeBaron at the Lawrence School court and Peddie will meet Piny in the Pennington School gym.

The four winners will vie on the 24th in the semifinals at what is supposed to be the championship game will be played on the 26th.

PDS Has Chance. Princeton

Day School, competing for the first year as a varsity team, play in a preliminary contest to try to qualify for Class B competition.

Coach Chauncey Jones' Panthers will meet Stevens Academy for the open spot on Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Lawrenceville School court. The winner will meet Montclair Academy Wednesday afternoon at St. Bernard's. Montclair Academy is top seeded in Class B.

SKI TRIP SET
By Princeton Club. Plans are being made by the Princeton Ski Club for a trip to Killington, Vt., on the weekend of March 15-17. J. S. Donald Jr., of 264 Snowden Lane is trip leader.

"It's the best novice area in the east, with three chairs." Club members are told. "The other Killington areas grade on up through intermediate to hairy." Inquiries are directed to Mr. Donald, 924-3343, before February 28.

PHS WINS IN UPSET

Final Home Game Friday: Princeton High School, winner, last week over Bridgewater-Raritan in the last three seconds, will play its final home game of what has been a long season Friday evening at 8. Hamilton High School will provide the opposition.

Tuesday evening the Little Tiger cagers will be at Cathedral, Mercer County's league team with an 18-0 record. They will play their 22nd and final game next Friday at St. Anthony's.

A hook shot from the right side by John Madden gave PHS its thrilling 66-65 victory over favored Bridgewater-Raritan 4:43, the home team Friday night. Madden fired off the shot with three seconds remaining.

"It was as fine a game as I've ever watched to see," Coach Larry Ivan said. "The last two minutes, you couldn't even hear yourself think. The place was pandemonium."

After a disputed basket at the buzzer had given the Golden Falcons a 33-31 half-time margin, PHS fought back to a four-point lead with three minutes to go. That was cut to two and with 28 seconds remaining it evaporated altogether on three-point play by Bridgewater's 5-6 Mike Greiner.

Trailing now by one, PHS brought the ball up and called time with seven seconds to go. Then it overcame one side to set up the winning pass to Madden. "The nice thing about it," said Ivan later, "was they did it all themselves."

"This will help the kids mature," added Ivan. "To know they can go to the wire against a good club and still win, it's a pleasure to beat a club as good as this." Among its 14 wins, Bridgewater owns one over Plainfield, which had bumbled the Little Tigers earlier. 11-7-75. Four of the six to play for PHS returned to the lineup. Madden and Billy Brooks shared scoring honors with 17 each. Jeff Harting had 10 and senior Al Moring, 12. Moring thus filled quite capably the void left by Ed McEwen, who last week had quit the team. The team's second highest scorer — in 15 games he fell below double figures on only once, reaching a high of 30 against Hamilton — McEwen departed after he had a poor performance in the Seinet game in which he failed to score.

Didn't Throw Ball Away. "We also didn't throw the ball away 32 times," continued Ivan. He pointed out that his team lost the ball only seven times on turnovers compared to 21 for the Falcons. He attributed this in large part to the "constant pressure" the man-for-man, full-court defense employed by the Little Tigers throughout. "We let the defense make the mistakes," he said.

As expected, the much taller home team had an edge in rebounding, topping PHS by 18 in this department. But Ivan reported that he had told his squad at the start, "If they get the ball, let's make them earn every step."

So tenacious was PHS that Ivan was able to say later that Bridgewater's big men "literally showed signs of wear and tear" before the game was over. "We'd say physically we were just a little better than they — not under the boards — but in running and stamina. Ivan also reported that some of the B-K fans came over to him later and told him they had never seen a team hustle like this.

The victory was especially sweet because it came on the

New Brunswick in 1969

Princeton and Rutgers, which played the first intercollegiate football game in New Brunswick in 1969, will return there for the 1980 contest as part of the celebration marking the 100th anniversary of the sport.

The Scarlet Knights stadium, which normally holds 23,000 will be expanded to 25,000 with the addition of temporary seats. Since 1969, the teams have played only two other games there, preferring instead to take advantage of Palmer Stadium's larger (46,000) capacity to accommodate the large crowds the game attracts.

Although they lead in games won, 58 to 8, the Tigers have yet to win a contest in New Brunswick, losing there in 1933 and 1947 — as well as in 1969.

beels of a dismal showing against Trenton in which PHS was soundly trounced. "How many clubs could really come look at Trenton?" asked Ivan. "Every ball game we go in to I tell them they can win. They're starting to believe it."

PHS FALLS TO PEDDIE

After Leading at Half. The chance of winning two in a row this season was denied the Princeton High School basketball team for the third time Tuesday when Villinor-Peddie came from behind to win, 63-45. The victory was Peddie's 11th in 20 starts, while the Little Tigers' log dip ended in 3-16. The two teams battled evenly in the first half, PHS taking a narrow 25-22 lead into the locker room. The first quarter ended 12-12.

Then the Little Tigers fel aport. That all too familiar occurrence that has plagued the team this year — a lopsided quarter — popped up in the third period when Peddie outscored the home team, 21-6. That was the ball game. John Madden and Billy Brooks accounted for the bulk of the losers' scoring. Madden scored for 16 and Brooks netting 13. Al Moring added 8. Peddie added three men in double figures.

HUN SURVIVES SCARE

Top: Bryn Athyn, 49-8. "When you're on top, every body guns for you," remarked Hun School basketball coach Dave Leete.

Tuesday, Bryn Athyn nearly succeeded in gaining down the Johnny Huns in Philadelphia. Hun actually won the heart-stopping contest after time had run out when Nat Williams converted one of two foul shots. Sophomore Mike Maguire had knotted the score at 49 all with his layup with 12 seconds remaining.

To win its 12th in 13 starts, and preserve its first-place standing in the Penn-Jersey League, Hun had to come from behind. Normally, a high scoring club, Hun could muster only 18 points in the first half. Bryn Athyn, which Hun had defeated easily in its opener in December, had 20. The one team outscored Hun by one in the third quarter, but couldn't hang on in the pressure-packed ending.

Maguire and captain Don Silverman were high for Hun with 15 each. Williams contributed seven and Herm Seizer and Mike Rossi, 5 each. If Hun can get by George School next week, the only team to defeat Hun, the worst it can do in the League is tie.

News Of The CHURCHES

FR. AUER NAMED VICAR Of Trinity Church, Trinity Episcopal Parish received its second vicar last week with the appointment of the Rev. E. Ruby Auer as vicar of Trinity Church. The Rev. Harry I. Lauer is vicar of the parish's All Saints' Chapel. The Rev. Mr. Auer's appointment was by the unanimous action of the rector, the Rev. James Whittemore; the wardens and vestry.

Fr. Auer has served at Trinity Church since September 1964. He was priest-in-charge last year during the months Trinity was without a rector. As vicar, he will be responsible for the scheduling and organization of all worship services along with direction of the pastoral program.

A graduate of Syracuse University and the Episcopal Seminary at the University of the South, Fr. Auer was rector of St. Mark's Church, Syracuse, N. Y., for nine years; St. Paul's Waterloo, for five years and at Manlius for five years. He served with such distinction that he was twice elected a clerical deputy from the Diocese of Central New York to the General Convention of the Episcopal Church.

Fr. Auer is chairman of the pastoral ministries division of the Princeton Pastors' Association, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Donald W. Meisel of First Presbyterian Church. This division includes supervision of the Princeton Hospital chaplaincy program.

His leadership within the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey has resulted in his appoint-

The Rev. E. Ruby Auer ment by Bishop Alfred Bayard as a member of the Department of Christian Education and of the Foundation (Trustees) of the Diocese. A "vicar" by definition is an "administration deputy of another," which in Fr. Auer's case will be the rector.

ECUMENICS CHAIR NAMED Honoring Seminary Alumnus. The professorship of ecumenics at Princeton Theological Seminary will become the Henry Winters Luce Chair of Ecumenics, President James I. McCord has announced.

A $500,000 gift from the Henry Luce Foundation, Inc., has made possible the professorship in the field of Christian unity in memory of Henry W. Luce, of the Seminary's Class of 1896. The Rev. Mr. Luce, father of the late Henry R. Luce of Time, Inc. died in 1941 after a career as a missionary and educator in the United States and China. He was a visiting lecturer at the seminary after his return from China. A grandson, Henry Luce III, is a Seminary trustee. The Rev. Mr. Luce was a professor at Shantung Christian University in China for 17 years, beginning in 1897. In 1919, he was named vice president of Peking University, a post he held until 1927 when he became vice-president emeritus. Returning to this country, he spent a year in graduate study and then joined the faculty of Hartford Theological Seminary as professor of missions, teaching there from 1928 until 1941. He died later that same year, on December 7.

The chair named in his memory was originally a professorship of missions. At its establishment, it was the first such post in theological education, just as it became the first ecumenics professorship when it was occupied by the Rev. Dr. John A. Mackay, president of Princeton Seminary from 1936 to 1959 and currently president emeritus.

SURGEON TO SPEAK

At St. Andrew's, Dr. Forrest G. Eggleston, chief surgeon and professor of surgery at Christian Medical College and Brown Memorial Hospital in Ludhiana, Punjab, India, will discuss his work at the 10:30 a.m. service this Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Eggleston is a Presbyterian medical missionary supported by St. Andrew's. The Christian Medical College, affiliated with Punjab University, provides medical training for the area. Some 50 men and women are enrolled in the four-and-one-half year course leading to a medical degree. A similar number is enrolled in the three-year nursing program, about 30 of whom study medicine for an additional year, and there are currently 24 women in the health visitor course.

MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK. More than 60 volunteers turned out on Monday for the Women's Association Project day at First Presbyterian Church, coordinated by Mrs. Bruce Vansant (standing, above), who commanded 20 sewing machines for the event. Between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., women made 20 hospital gowns, 10 pairs of men's pajamas, an infant's layette complete with quilt, three woolen sweatshirt afghans and several nylon-stuffed quilts for the benefit of an Alabama school, a South Carolina parish and an East India Hospital. At the machines above are Mrs. Jules Bussard (left) and Mrs. Richard E. Shope, in a present day version of an old-time quilting party. (Staff Photo)

CONCERT SET

By St. Petersburg Boychoir. A 37-voice boychoir from St. Petersburg, Fla., will give a concert at 8 p.m. Sunday in Kingston Presbyterian Church. The interdenominational group, known as the "Singing Sons," is sponsored by the City of St. Petersburg. Members were chosen after more than 1,000 boys auditioned. The choir is in the north to open the High Fidelity Convention in Philadelphia.

Admission to the concert is free.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. William T. Parker, former pastor of First Baptist Church, is in the intensive care unit at Princeton Hospital after suffering a heart attack.

Hubby Night will be held at 11 this Sunday in Calvary Baptist Church.

by the Men's Fellowship of Calvary Baptist Church. Hopefully, Harry McAndrews will discuss painting and Enoch Blackwell will speak on coin collecting. The meeting is open to interested men.

Dr. W. Malcolm Clark, assistant professor of Old Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary, will be the preacher at 11 this Sunday in Calvary Baptist Church.

ALL THE ADVANTAGES

of living in a private park, but close to schools and friendly neighbors - that's what you get in this rambling four bedroom home in nearby Lawrence Township. Raised living room, paneled study and family room, separate dining room and a kitchen that is a gourmet's dream - all these are offered in a home that is spotlessly clean and in "like new" condition. Other extras include central air conditioning, carpeting and appliances, a fire alarm system - and a swing and sandbox for the kiddies.

Offered for summer occupancy at $11,500 and exclusively ours.

Several short term rentals, furnished or unfurnished. Both apartments and houses.

Also—a complete selection of homes in all price ranges—in Princeton and nearby areas.

In the village of Lawrenceville, close to schools and the bus line, we have a most appealing house. There is an entrance hall, well-proportioned living room with fireplace, good-sized dining room, paneled study, kitchen, breakfast room, screened porch and powder room on the first floor; 3 bedrooms and bath on the second floor. Excellent closets and storage space. Basement and garage. Exclusive listing. The price is right at $28,500

For those in need of elbow room we offer a 5-bedroom house with 3 full baths. There is also an entrance hall, living room with fireplace, separate dining room, paneled den, laundry room, basement, attached garage, and good storage. The tree-filled yard gives great privacy. Exclusive listing. $52,500

Contemporary, in a perfect setting, on about 3/4 acre of land in the Township. It's time to dream of the pleasure the secluded swimming pool will give you, and the joy of entertaining on the spacious terrace. The house itself is a gem with every convenience for comfortable living. There is an entrance hall, large living room with fireplace, study or bedroom, 2 other bedrooms and two baths, kitchen with breakfast bar. An ideal house. $59,500

Two acres filled with mature trees and bordered by a sparkling brook. To match the beauty of the setting, there's a brick and frame Colonial with an entrance hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen with breakfast area, paneled family room with fireplace, study, and powder room on the first floor; second floor has five bedrooms and two baths. There is also a screened porch and a terrace so located that the owners have complete privacy. $95,000

A large listing of town and country properties in all price ranges.

GOLF COURSE . . . (the Hopewell Valley Golf Club, to be exact) is right across the road! Old Colonial with beautiful site, trees.
Owner has devoted a great deal of thought and money to the modernization of this house. The result is a delightful place to live in with every modern convenience, yet the exterior and the grounds still retain the charm which always comes to mind when one hears about an old farm home in the country. And the size of the house, the proximity of the golf course, and the extremely favorable price make this one of the best buys we have on our list. Entrance hall, den with bookshelves, paneled dining room, living room with fireplace and built in bar, broad new kitchen, fully equipped. Second floor: master bedroom and bath, 4 nice bedrooms & bath. Aimed at an acre of land. (Sale agent) $37,000 this delightful red shingled home, with white shutters and trim, is only 6 years old. 21 foot living room with fireplace. Separate dining room. Sunny family room off the kitchen, with adjacent powder room. Full basement.

2-car garage. Upstairs: 4 corner bedrooms, 2 baths. This is a spacious home in a fine neighborhood with plenty of children. School within walking distance. Walk-to-work carpeting included. Aluminum storm & screen.
Quick occupancy as the owners are building a new and larger home and can move within 30 days. (Sale agent) $37,000

NELSON RIDGE . . . In this lovely area, which is still rural in character yet is only a few minutes from the center of Princeton, this long, low white one-story Colonial offers a great deal to people interested in large living areas for entertainment . . . or work. The house has foyer, living room, large dining room, modern kitchen, and a vast family room with wall-to-wall carpeting. Both the den and the screened breezeway have fireplaces. Master bedroom with dressing room and bath. 2 small full bedrooms and bath adjoin the den, which could also be a study room for children. Game room in basement with wet bar. 1 1/2 acres of land.
(Sale agent) $55,000

BUSINESS PROPERTY . . . In a nearby village, just outside Princeton, this corner property has 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. Could be modified into 2-story or office, dormitory, or living quarters above. Enough land to make a parking lot in back. Ideal for doctor or dentist. (Sale agent) $27,900

RENTAL . . . furnished . . . 2 bedrooms, 2 studies which can be used as bedrooms and 1 bath and powder room very modern kitchen . . . truly, a lovely house available for 18 months. No young children, no pets. $350

STUART HILL . . . choice wooded 2-acre lots, with city water and sewer, gas, all other utilities now available for home construction this year. Altogether we have 27 lots, with beautiful trees, near the main Columbia Road and only a few minutes walk from Princeton Day School on the Great Road. This is generally considered to be the first residential area of Princeton. Low building costs. Good location.
bought. The land is high and most of the properties have a southern exposure. We'd like to discuss with you our special plan to reserve one of these magnificent lots until you are ready to build.
Prices begin at $25,000
